Grissom Swims For Life After 'Liberty Bell' Sinks

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom survived a 5,280-mile-an-hour journey in space today, then made a dramatic swim for his life as his capsule plummeted to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean.

Loss of the two-million-dollar space craft and its equipment will not delay the Project Mercury program, which is aimed at placing a man in orbit a few months from now and on the moon later, an official said.

Films of Grissom and his control panel went down with the capsule, but Robert C. Gilruth, Project Mercury director, said most of the information desired was received through telemetry.

Gilruth said it has not been determined whether this would be the last suborbital flight. It had been suggested that there might be two more before the attempt is made to fire a man into orbit.

The capsule sank in 16,800 feet of water. Officials said no effort would be made to recover it.

Grissom blew his escape hatch and left the sinking capsule in the manner all astronauts had been taught in their rigorous training.

After swimming about 70 feet, Grissom was picked up by a helicopter two minutes after his escape from the capsule. Attempts to recover the spacecraft failed as it plummeted to the bottom.

"Give me something to blow my nose. My head is full of sea water," America's No. 2 space man said when

San Rafael Blaze Admitted By Two Boys—No Reason

By RALPH CHATOIAN

A 23-year-old Alto fireman fell to a flaming death late yesterday in the cave-in of a burning Northwestern Pacific Railroad tunnel under San Rafael's Lincoln Avenue.

The fire and cave-in destroyed one apartment house, damaged another beyond repair, closed Lincoln Avenue and two lanes of Highway 101 atop Puerto Suello Hill, and broke one and perhaps two of the main water lines serving San Rafael and adjoining areas to the north.

The fire was started by two boys, 13 and 12, who could give police investigators no reason for starting the blaze.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said today he planned to file a complaint charging the boys with death resulting from arson. This would, in effect, be a charge of murder. Garety said he would ask that the boys be remanded to the juvenile court immediately on filing the complaint.

Firemen and work crews pressed efforts today to recover the body of Frank Kinsler, whose truck fell into a 100-foot-long cave-in as the roof of the tunnel gave way.

Firemen fought flare-ups in the tunnel throughout the night as wooden pillars and beams smouldered. About a 100-foot by 50-foot area of Lincoln Avenue, just below the turn-off from Highway 101, was sucked down the deep crevice.

Throughout the night and early morning trees along the top of the tunnel disappeared into the growing cave-in as the ground was weakened by the burning tunnel walls.

A voice in a loudspeaker warned the thousands of spectators to stay back from the disaster area. Police tried to keep traffic flowing by Highway 101 but curious watchers caused traffic tie-ups. As workmen tried to remove the dirt and cement from the hole last night, Carl Heynen, Alto fire chief, kept looking down the cave-in remorsefully.

"He (Kinsler) started to get into the fire engine as the ground started giving away . . . I was standing off to the side near the fire truck . . . I hollered three times but he went down . . ." said Heynen.

FRANK KINSLER
Loses life at fire

SIX MONTHS

County Coroner Frank J. Keaton was lowered into the cave-in last night by a crane from Geister Brothers of San Rafael in an attempt to find any evidence of Kinsler's body. He came up after about three minutes of probing without any results. Then the huge crane started digging through the mass of dirt and concrete.

Kinsler had been with the Alto Fire Department for six months and lived at the fire house. Before he was hired by the fire department he was in the Air Force stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base.

PUMPER TRUCK

A San Rafael Fire Department pumper truck was parked only a few feet away from Kinzler's pickup. As the smaller truck vanished in the cave-in, fireman Robert Franzell leaped into the pumper truck and drove it to safety.

He was in the process of getting a divorce from his wife, Suzanne, who lives in San Leandro. He and his wife had no children. His family is from Tennessee.

Two residents of the apartment house at 1867 Lincoln Avenue which was destroyed by the blaze were overcome by

MAIN KNOCKED OUT

San Rafael Water Supply Imperiled

The disastrous tunnel fire and cave-in at Puerto Suello Hill last night knocked out a 12-inch main and crippled water supply to San Rafael and points north, water district officials warned today.

William R. Seeger, manager of Marin Municipal Water District, asked residents to refrain from using water for irrigation and for other non-essentials because the water supply and pressure is critically low.

A 12-inch line was knocked out, and another 18-inch line "could go any moment," Seeger reported. About half the water supply to San Rafael is still coming in through another line from San Anselmo and the Miracle Mile. However, the water pressure is low, said Seeger.

Trucks with loudspeakers moved through San Rafael, Santa Venetia, Terra Linda and Marinwood today, asking residents to use water only for absolutely essential needs.

Seeger said he does not know how long the emergency will last. The broken water line comes from Kent Lake via White's Hill and through Terra Linda and over Puerto Suello Hill.

Motorists Told To Keep Away From Fire Scene

San Rafael police warned motorists today not to park on Lincoln Avenue from Hammondale Court to Linden Lane; Villa Avenue from Highway 101 turn-off to Myrtle Avenue; and Mission Avenue from Irwin Street to Lincoln Avenue.

Police said westbound traffrac on Mission Avenue will be diverted to Fifth Avenue from Irwin Street.

They cautioned all persons not to go near the disaster scene where they will bother workmen trying to excavate body of Frank Kinsler, under tons of dirt and concrete.

CAVE-IN TIES UP TRAFFIC ON HIGHWAY

Southbound traffic down Highway 101 into San Rafael from Puerto Suello Hill was reduced to two lanes today because of the cave-in from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tunnel fire and the Lincoln Avenue off-ramp was blocked so that motorists entering San Rafael had to go on to Mission Avenue.

This situation coupled with curiosity of "rubber-neckers" caused morning commuter traffic to back up for several miles at times. The patrol office in San Rafael was flooded with phone calls from persons who thought that 101 south had been shut off altogether.

FRIENDS, RED CROSS PITCH IN

26 Left Homeless As Disaster Destroys 2 Apartment Buildings

Twenty-six persons lost their homes in the fire that collapsed the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tunnel under Lincoln Avenue last night.

The fire destroyed the Schwartzer apartments at 1867 Lincoln Avenue, which owner Rudolph Schwartzer of Sonoma recently put on the market with a price tag of $135,000. The cave-in damaged the Chula Vista Apartments at 1893 Lincoln Avenue so badly that Building Inspector Andrew Thomas said it could no longer be occupied and would have to be razed. Ernest Epidendio of Larkspur, proprietor of the Rainbow Market in Larkspur and owner of the Chula Vista, valued the building at $52,000.

Eighteen persons were in the 12-unit Schwartzer apartments and eight in the six-unit Chula Vista Apartments.

Many were routed with only part of their possessions. Both owners said the buildings were covered by insurance, but personal possessions in many cases were not.

All the routed occupants found temporary homes with friends or employers or through the help of the Marin County Red Cross chapter, which also set up a canteen at the fire site throughout the night and this morning.

Mrs. Mary McManus, 97, and her son, Daniel, 68, were overcome by smoke at the Schwartzer apartments but were out of danger on arrival at San Rafael General Hospital. They found temporary lodging with Mrs. Alice Ackley of 9 Corrillo Drive, San Rafael Meadows, Mrs. McManus' daughter.

Burned out of the Schwartzer partments and put up by the Red Cross at Bermuda Palms Motel were Pfc. and Mrs. Kenneth Turnage; Pvt. and Mrs. Johnny Merchant, and Thomas Griffith, a taxicab driver, and his wife Deanna and two children, aged 9 and 4.

Others who had to flee that building were Christian Christiansen, administrative assistant to San Rafael City Manager Dan E. Andersen, who spent the night at his boss's home; Fred Cardella, an employee of Standard Oil Co. of California in Richmond; Mrs. Betty Skinner and her son Peter, who found lodging with her sister, Mrs. Rowena Thornton, 7 Rogers Drive, San Rafael; Grover C. McCoy; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hearn, and Mr. and Mrs. William Rowe. Mrs. Rowe suffered a leg cut fleeing the fire.

Forced to flee the Chula Vista Apartments were:

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Grippi, who were married only last month, and who went to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Caldwell, 569 Woodbine Road, Terra Linda; Coast Guardsman and Mrs. Lowell Hickok, who went to her mother's home in Hayward; Mrs. Marian Grady, employed in the county tax collector's office, who found lodging with a sister-in-law in San Rafael; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Giambastiani, who were put up by friends at Hamilton Air Force Base, and Mrs. Eileen Coe, an employee of Standard Construction Co., who was found quarters by her employer.

The Red Cross said today if any of the residents need emergency food, clothing or medical attention they should call the Red Cross chapter house in San Rafael.

Railroad Says Freight Will Be Re-Routed

The Northwestern Pacific Railroad today reported freight will be handled to and from San Rafael as usual, by re-routing via Tiburon, as a result of cave-in of the railroad's Puerto Suello Hill tunnel.

The railroad company denied liability in the cave-in, which cost the life of an Alto fireman, buried his fire truck, and made Lincoln Avenue impassable.

The accompanying fire destroyed an apartment house. The cave-in makes a second apartment house uninhabitable. Both were atop the tunnel.

A railroad spokesman said both incoming and outgoing freight will be either shipped via Tiburon, being barged across the bay, or will be loaded or unloaded at Ignacio. Shippers so desiring can truck to and from Ignacio.

Railroad officials said they do not expect to be able to explore the tunnel for a week, because of continuing smouldering fires, intense heat and danger of cave-ins. Only then can they determine how extensive a rebuilding job is faced.

The possibility also arose that the tunnel may be re-routed in connection with development of Highway 101 as a freeway.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Sentence Upheld

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court has upheld the death sentence of Billy Wesley Monk, sentenced to die in the San Quentin gas chamber for a Los Angeles kidnaping.

The court ruled yesterday that contrary to Monk's appeal there was no error in his trial and added it was the trial court's prerogative to impose the death penalty in cases of kidnaping with bodily harm.

Monk, 25, was sentenced to death for two robbery-rapes in which two women were injured.

'Wade-In,' Bomb

CHICAGO (UPI) — A peaceful "wade-in" demonstration gave way to renewed racial tension today with a black powder bomb explosion in a previously untroubled neighborhood.

Police said the bomb, hurled into the lobby of a three-story apartment building occupied by Negroes, broke four windows and unhinged a door. There were no injuries.

The incident in the Austin district, which had not previously been involved in recent racial friction, followed yesterday's peaceful "wade-in" demonstration at Rainbow Beach.

5 Die In Crash

EDGEMONT, S.D. (UPI)—Five persons were killed yesterday in a head-on collision that tore the motor from one car and threw the driver 20 feet.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Peter Sinclair, of Edgemont, and the four members of the Richard Helfrich family of Davenport, Iowa, including Richard, 43, his wife Marion, their son James, 17, and their daughter, Julie, 14.

Fall River County Sheriff Allan Coates said Mrs. Sinclair's car swerved to one side of the road, then careened across the road into the Helfrich family vehicle, on a nearly straight stretch of black top road seven miles west of Edgemont.

Mrs. Sinclair's body was thrown across the highway. Her car, the engine torn from its mounts, was turned around.

Hoover On Reds

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Former President Hoover has called on Americans to stand behind President John F. Kennedy in his dealings with the Russians.

"The difficult duty of American citizens is to present a solid front to the bitter enemy that lurks in the Kremlin and support the president," he told a Stanford University dinner last night.

Most of Hoover's remarks dealt with the problems of non-tax supported higher education.

"A fundamental of the American heritage and of our daily life is free enterprise both in the economic and social side," the former chief executive said. "The highest standard of living in the world has been due to it."

Nazis Sentenced

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—Two American Nazi storm troopers have been sentenced to 12 months on the state road gang for assault on a 13-year-old Jewish boy.

The troopers are members of George Lincoln Rockwell's Amerian Nazi party, which has its headquarters in this Washington suburb.

Conviction yesterday of Robert Garber, 31, and Richard Braun, 26, was based on testimony by the boy, Frederick Ricky Farber. He said that on July 8 he was chased by one of the Nazis carrying a lead pipe, threatened and forced into the headquarters, where he said he was handcuffed.

Braun and Garber said they would appeal.

Contract Demands

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers Union finished presenting its list of new contract demands to Chrysler today by telling the corporation it must pay higher wages to its 50,000 factory workers even though it lost 21 million dollars thus far this year.

The UAW called for "modernization" of the "improvement factor" formula which now guarantees a worker an annual pay increase of 6-7 cents an hour. It should be more at Chrysler and elsewhere, the UAW said.

Norman Matthews, UAW vice president, said that "over the long haul, Chrysler has done well," despite its 1961 losses.

Eichmann Admission

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann admitted today the fact he acted under orders of his Naiz bosses was no excuse under the law.

But he claimed that inside himself he still believed he was a "tool in the hands of superior forces" and still washed his hands "like Pontius Pilate," of guilt in the Nazi extermination of the Jews.

Eichmann made his admission in reply to ueqstions by his three black-robed Jewish judges. The ueqstions were put to him from the bench in German. All three judges are German-born and German-speaking.

"I realize that acting on orders is not an excuse under the law," Eichmann admitted.

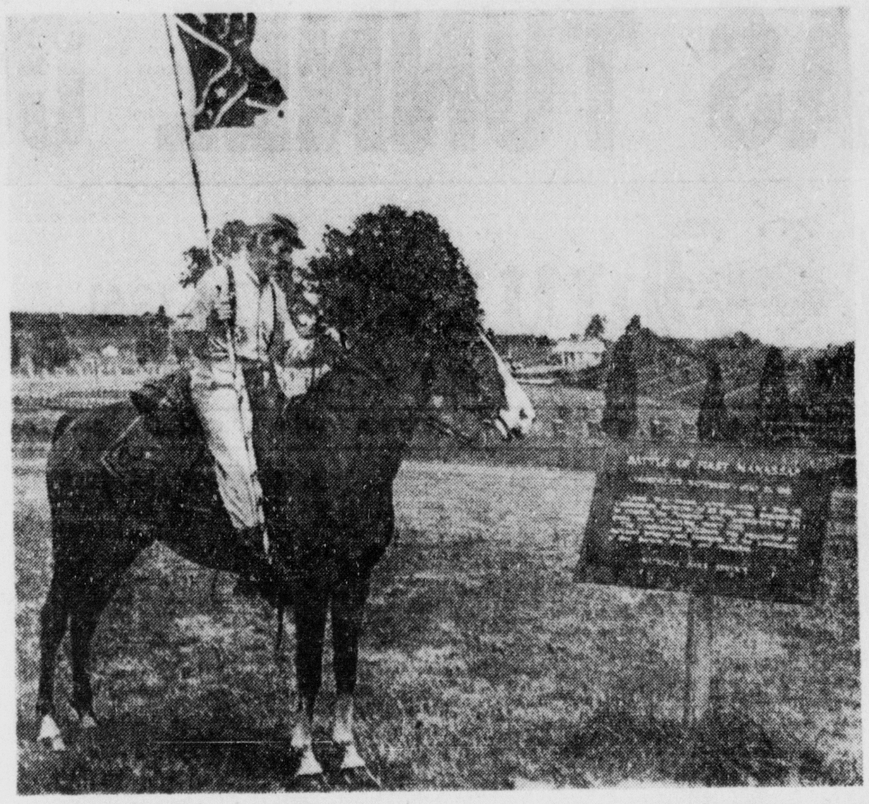

But the former Gestapo officer added that believing "I was a tool in the hands of superior forces and acting on orders . . . I wash my hands of the whole affair."

New Penicillin

LONDON (AP)—British doctors have developed a new penicillin that can be taken as a pill and is effective against a wide variety of diseases.

The British Medical Journal said the drug, Penbritin, has proved effective against food poisoning, influenza complications, secondary effects of pneumonia, wound infections and blood poisoning.

The new drug was named Penbritin to emphasize its British origin.

Army Says No New Request For Draftees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although several states reported they were increasing their pools of available draftees, the Army said today it has made no new request for drafting additional men.

Selective Service officials in Washington said the increases in pools of available draft men were tied to the already announced 8,000-man August call, 2,000 more than called for July.

Indications in the capital were that the administration planned to rely primarily on trained National Guardsmen and reservists in any defense manpower buildup. Larger draft quotas would be used only as a possible long-range support measure.

Some state Selective Service directors said they were acting on orders from Washington in building up the available supply of men eligible for induction into the armed forces.

A Selective Service official here pointed out that some increases had been expected — there were no draft calls for May and June with 14,000 men to be drafted in July and August.

"I think perhaps some state directors may have sent out calls for more men in anticipation of further increases," he said. "But there have been no increases since the call of 8,000 was announced for August."

Selective Service officials said the state calls had no connection with the Berlin crisis.

Among the states reporting increases in their "ready pool" were Massachusetts, Indiana, Ohio, Arizona, Oklahoma, Texas, Georgia, Rhode Island, Illinois, Oregon, Tennessee, Arkansas and Maryland.

100TH ANNIVERSARY

Bull Run Or Manassas, The Battle's On Again

Va. (AP) — Brass cannon glittering and old muskets polished to a fare-thee-well, a small host of men in blue and gray plunge today into the opening stages of a grand re-enactment of the Battle of First Manassas — or Bull Run.

One hundred years ago this day, about 30,000 Federals bound—they hoped—for Richmond clashed here with about an equal number of Confederates. When the sun went down that blistering, dusty Sunday, the panicked Union host was reeling back to Washington, 26 miles away.

Today's event is only a dress rehearsal. The big show, staged mostly by 2,000 Civil War buffs of the North-South Skirmish Assn., will come tomorrow, with a repeat performance on Sunday.

Officials in charge are predicting a throng of 75,000 spectators tomorrow and maybe a bigger one Sunday. If so, the traffic jam may be worse than 100 years ago, when the stumbling, bone-weary troops were joined in retreat by crowds of civilians who had come out from Washington with picnic hampers to watch Mr. Lincoln's men win a lightning war.

The North-South skirmishers —historical hobbyists who own authentic reproductions of Civil War uniforms and love to show how they can cut a 2 by 6 plank in two with volleys from their old muskets — pitched their tents on Chinn Ridge, just off the main battle arena. Many wives and children came along, also equipped with costumes of the 1860s.

A stir of interest went through the camp with an announcement symbolic of the amity that has replaced long-ago enmity. A wealthy Yankee has been picked to play the role of Stonewall Jackson and a man from Manassas cast as William Tecumseh Sherman.

It was Jackson and his chief, Gen. Joe E. Johnston, who had come down from the valley of the Shenandoah in a swift, secret maneuver that caught the Federals unaware and helped swing the tide of battle. He looked to other Confederates like an impregnable stone wall and that's how he won his nickname. Sherman, who was later to break the South with his march through Georgia, sought in vain to stem the federal rout at First Manassas.

Drug Prescribing Habits Are Assailed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The director of a New York hospital estimated today that thousands of sick Americans, "savagely burdened" by high drug costs, could save millions of dollars if doctors changed prescribing habits.

Dr. Martin Cherkasky, director of Montefiore Hospital, also said his and other hospitals have found it necessary to shield young doctors against the "vigorous pressures" of salesmen for drug companies.

He said the poor quality of the drug firms' heavy advertising output seriously interferes with the ability of the average doctor to render high quality medical care.

Until three years ago, he said, Montefiore permitted detail men representing drug makers to set up displays in the hospital entrance. This was discontinued because the supposed educational material confused and misled young staff doctors, he said.

"But what of the average general practitioner being bombarded daily with what has been estimated as about $5,000 worth of drug promotional material a year?" he asked in a statement prepared for the Senate anti-trust subcommittee.

Cherkasky recited his complaints against the drug industry on the fourth day of hearings on legislation to license drug manufacturers, loosen patent rights on new drugs and require federal testing to find out whether new drugs can meet advertised claims.

BELCHING FLAMES AND SMOKE—Flames and black smoke pour from the north entrance of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tunnel through Puerto Suello Hill as firemen spray water on the blaze. The fire took the life of Alto fireman Frank Kinsler, who plunged through a cave-in on Lincoln Avenue in his pickup truck. The ground over the tunnel, weakened by the fire below, continued to cave in throughout the night.

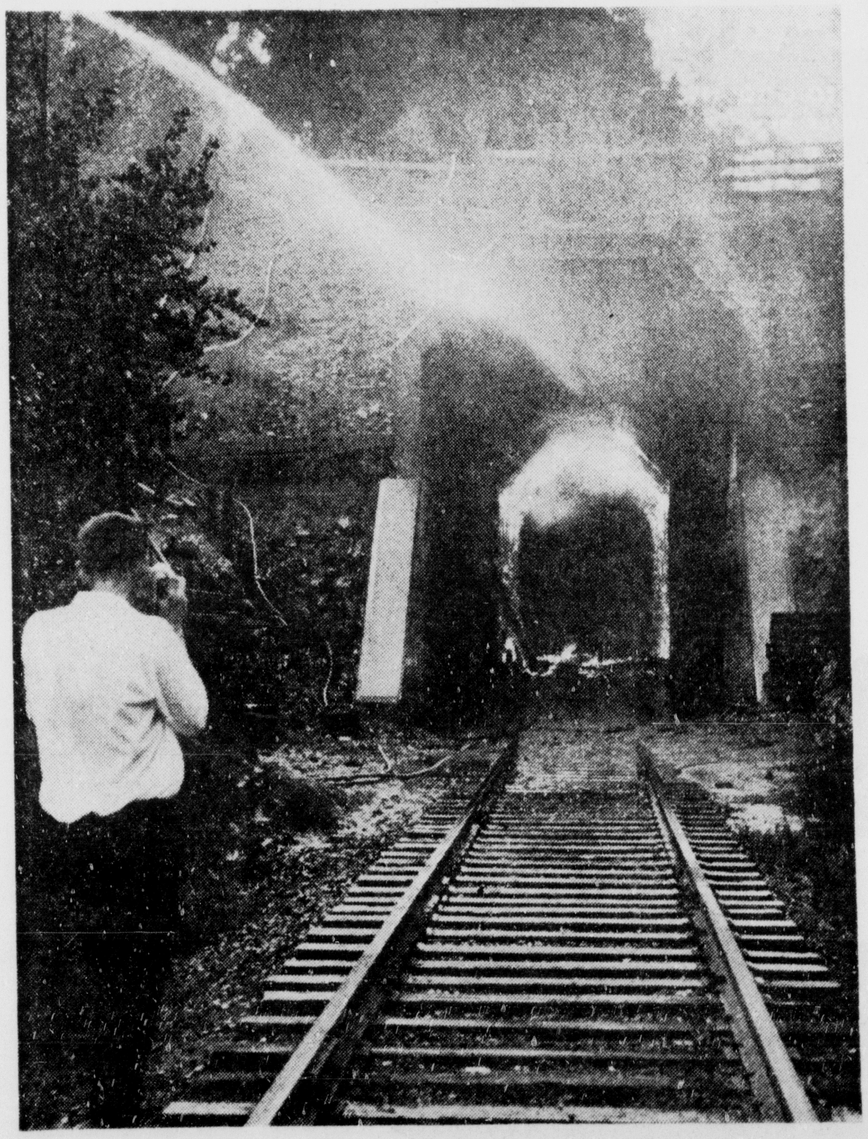

APARTMENT HOUSE COLLAPSES—An unidentified volunteer fire-fighter shoots water on burning 12-unit apartment building which was completely demolished by last night's fire. Portion on the left caved in as the ground gave way. Dan McManus, 68, and his mother, Mary McManus, 97, were rescued by Art Burr Sr., volunteer fireman, from the flaming building.

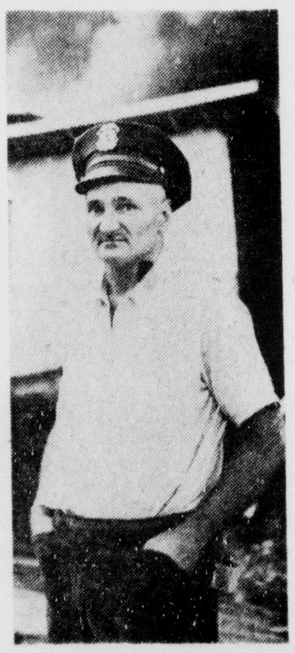

ALL WERE SAVED—The 12-unit apartment building at 1867 Lincoln Avenue is completely engulfed by smoke and fire in this photo. Eighteen residents escaped. The Chula Vista Apartment building on right was not damaged by fire but was condemned because of the caving ground beneath.

Scenes At Disaster Laid To Young Incendiarists

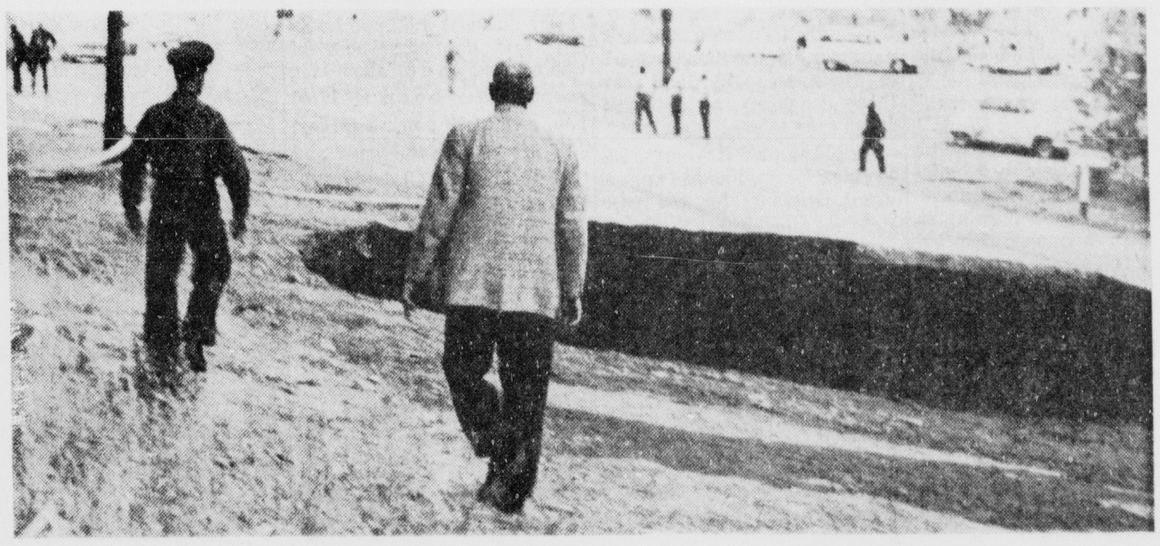

Independent-Journal photographers Jim Kean and Dick Steinheimer were on the scene as fire that was started by two boys in San Rafael railroad tunnel spread to disastrous proportions last evening. The two took all photos on this page except the one directly below.

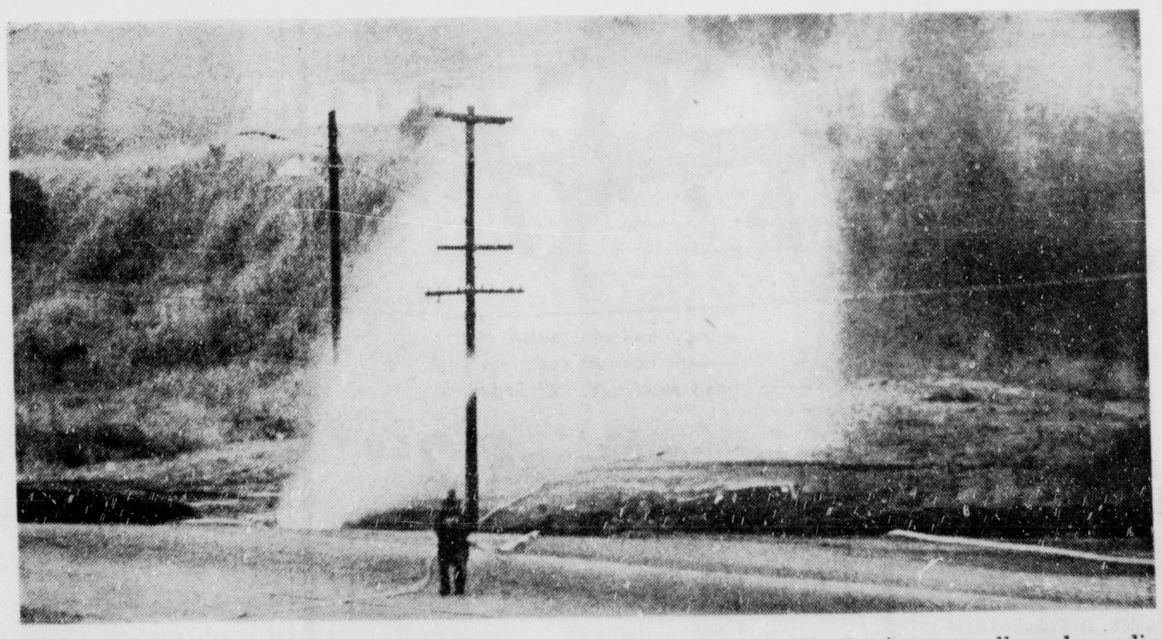

FIRE IN SOUTH ENTRANCE—Fire crawls around south end of railroad tunnel as fire-fighters above shoot water through opening in attempt to put out the blaze. The fire smouldered throughout the night and may still be burning under the caved-in ground, firemen said today.

SAVES TWO LIVES—Special policeman Art Burr Sr. of 152 Villa Avenue, San Rafael, is credited for saving the lives of Daniel McManus, 68, and his mother, Mrs. Mary McManus, 97, from the burning apartment house shown behind fire. After Burr brought the two from the smoke-filled building, they were checked at San Rafael General for smoke inhalation. (Photo by Tiny Tots Studio, San Anselmo)

CAVE-IN — Alto Fire Chief Carl Heynen and San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa run toward huge crater immediately after cave-in of part of Lincoln Avenue. An Alto truck with fireman Frank Kinsler aboard plunged through the cave-in. Other sections of the land above the tunnel collapsed during the night.

GUSH OF WATER — Water shoots from broken water main caused by yesterday's fire in the tunnel used by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. When part of Lincoln Avenue collapsed, sending Frank Kinsler to his death, the water line was snapped, spouting water high in the air.

ENTERS CAPSULE—Virgil Grissom slips into Liberty Bell 7 before blast off. When he landed, Grissom had to blow the capsule hatch and swim for about 70 feet before being picked up. There was some fear that he had sunk with the capsule, and his parents at home had a few uneasy moments. That's backup pilot John Glenn aiding Grissom. (AP Wirephoto)

'Most Nervous Hour Of My Life,' Grissom Dad Says Of Space Shot

MITCHELL, Ind. (UPI)—Virgil Grissom's father said today he had just spent the most nervous hour of my life."

Railroader Dennis Grissom emerged beaming from his white frame home after watching the telecast of his astronaut son rocketing into space. His wife stood beside him. Another son, Norman, stood in the background with his wife and child.

One of the dozen newsmen assembled on the Mitchell lawn asked "would you like to see Gus make a trip to the moon?"

"No!" the astronaut's mother replied.

"We're just relieved it's over," the father said. "We're very happy it's a success, but we wouldn't want to go through it again."

Grissom appeared slightly disturbed by the fact that his son's space capsule had sunk in the Atlantic.

"But that was an accident," he added hastily.

The Grissom family stood on the front porch barely 15 minutes chatting with newsmen.

Lights had been burning in the Grissom home since dawn. Grissom, a ruddy, white-haired man, appeared at the front door only once during preparations for the space shot. That was to invite Police Chief Ernest Beavers to have a seat on the porch.

A neighbor watched television men set up their equipment and recalled when Virgil joined the Air Force and "used to fly over every chance he'd get. We'd always know it was him because he did barrel rolls."

Nearby, newsmen drank coffee and ate doughnuts and talked with two uniformed policemen on the Grissom lawn.

The lawn was neatly trimmed. Inside the small, white frame house were the elder Grissoms; their younger son Norman, an employee of the Mitchell Tribune; and their daughter, Mrs. Vilma Beavers of Baltimore, Md., and her three daughters, all gathered around the television set.

Neighbor Carl Reynolds, 39, a contractor, said he has known Virgil Grissom "for the past eight or nine years. Virgil always comes over and we have a jam session at Friendly Fred's (gas) station. It's sort of a congregating place.

"Virgil is quiet spoken. He hasn't got a lot of bull in him. But he gets to talking when he's over here," Reynolds said.

Reynolds said successive postponements did not change Mitchell's plans for a parade past the Grissom home.

"The whole town is pretty enthusiastic about it," he said.

Dionne Quintuplet Has Twin Boys

QUEBEC (AP)—Cecile Dionne, one of the four surviving Dionne quintruplets, has given birth to twin boys—the first multiple birth for the famous sisters.

Her husband, Philippe Langlois, said the boys—both of whom weighed about six pounds—were born at 11:46 p.m. and 11:52 p.m. yesterday.

Langlois said the boys and their mother are all doing well. The couple now has two other sons, Claude, 3, and Patrice, 14 months.

SPECIAL BRIEFING

U.S. Won't Back Down On Berlin

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The United States has no intention of backing down on Berlin, but within the narrow limits left for negotiation, there may yet be found a solution—temporary or permanent—short of war.

This was made clear yesterday during a foreign affairs background briefing session for newsmen and others in San Francisco.

The talks by State Department officials in this first of a series of regional foreign policy briefings were "for background only, not for attribution." But Charles E. Bohlen, special assistant to the secretary of state, put "on the record" reiteration of the United States' intention to uphold the four-power treaty guarantees for West Berlin.

He also said "for the record" that Soviet Russia's East European satellites are believed to have little enthusiasm for going to war over Berlin.

The Berlin situation naturally drew a major share of interest at the day-long meeting in the Fairmont Hotel, attended by some 700 representatives of newspapers, television and radio stations, magazines, organizations and general public, and co-hosted by the State Department and the World Affairs Council of Northern California.

It was the first of a series of such regional briefing conferences in which the Kennedy Administration is trying to acquaint moulders of public opinion throughout the nation with its policies and actions in the field of foreign policy. The second such conference was held today in Denver, Colo.

Some of the background that emerged from the session:

Pinning the Communist label on revolution wherever it appears is misleading and untrue. Peoples long held in colonial status are striking for freedom with America—not Russia—as their model. But international communism, directed from Moscow, seeks to take over and capitalize on these revolutions.

The United States has not given up hope for the survival of Laos as a free state rather than a satellite of Russia and/or Red China.

Although revolutions have long been commonplace in Latin America, the most recent ones have been of a new pattern—not simply "barracks room revolts" that replace one military dictator with another, but genuine revolutions of the people. Yet in none except Cuba has the revolution born the "made in Russia" mark.

Parties in other Latin American countries that were sympathetic with Fidel Castro have come to recognize what happened to Castro's revolution in Cuba, and are on their guard against similar occurence in their own countries.

In the only fully "on the record" talk of the conference, Henry R. Labouisse, director of the International Cooperation Administration, outlined the five-year plan for "self-help" economic development aid to "have-not" nations which is contained in President John F. Kennedy's proposed Act for International Development.

The plan lays great stress on receipient nations helping to carry out the projects rather than depending solely on the United States. It emphasises projects which will be of long-range economic benefit rather than of stop-gap nature.

Participating in the conference from the State Department, besides Bohlen, were: Roger Tubby, assistant secretary of state for public affairs; Mrs. Katie S. Louchheim, who holds the newly created position of consultant on women's activities for the bureau of public affairs; Clare H. Timberlake, ambassador to the Republic of the Congo; Walter P. McConaughy, assistant secretary of state for far eastern affairs, and Wymberley DeR. Coerr, acting assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs.

Mortimer Fleishhacker Jr., president of the World Affairs Council of Northern California, gave the opening address, and Calvin J. Nichols, director of the council, presided.

Strawberry Apartments Suit Filed

Strawberry Property Owners Assn. went to court yesterday to halt what it fears will be apartment construction at Strawberry Point on the 25-acre Sam Neider property.

Attorneys Leland H. Jordan and Stephen H. Kaufman of San Rafael filed the suit in Marin Superior Court for the property owners group and three of its members, Forrest N. Randolph, David Steinhardt and Peter L. Humphrey.

COUNTY NAMED

Named as defendants are the county, County Board of Supervisors, and the County Planning Commission.

The property is located on the east side of Strawberry Peninsula off East Strawberry Drive.

The complaint alleges that the area was set aside for single family homes under a master plan adopted by the county. It is now confined exclusively to single family homes and as seminary grounds, says the suit.

'SPOT ZONING'

Strawberry Property Owners Assn. contends that the supervisors passed an ordinance on June 6, giving the area a new classification that permits apartments, although the planning commission made no such recommendation. This is spot zoning, the suit alleges.

The Strawberry group is asking the court to stop the development of the property and nullify the rezoning ordinance passed by the supervisors.

Only One Superior Judge On Duty

Marin Superior Court had only one judge on the bench for most of this week.

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. was on vacation. Tuesday morning, Judge Thomas F. Keating called into the county clerk's office to report he was ill.

This left Judge N. Charles Brusatori on the bench alone since Tuesday.

Next week, Judge Keating will be on vacation, but Judge Sims is scheduled to be back on duty.

BIG A-SUB FLEET, CLAIMED BY RUSS

Newspaper Izvestia Says Rocket-Armed Force Bigger, Faster Than America's

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said tonight Russia has a bigger and faster fleet of rocket-armed nuclear submarines than the United States.

The newspaper made the claim in the course of an attack on U.S. Attorney General Robert Kennedy's speech at the July 15 launching of the U.S. Polaris missile submarine John Marshall.

"The Soviet Union," it said, "also has atomic powered submarines armed with the most powerful rockets of various types, submarines whose speed is no less than the American ones and even with bigger speeds, and not in lesser numbers but in bigger numbers than America. To put it in other words, in the necessary number."

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev revealed publicly in a speech early this year that the Soviet Union had rocket-equipped nuclear submarines.

It was not known, however, whether the Soviet submarines had rockets capable of being fired from underwater such as the American Polaris missile.

Western intelligence experts estimate the Soviet Union has between 500 and 600 operational submarines of all types—the biggest underwater fleet in the world.

It has been reported, however, that the Soviets recently have been concentrating on the construction of nuclear submarines.

(The 1960-61 edition of the authoritative Jane's Fighting Ships said Russia was reported to have six 3,000-ton nuclear-powered submarines completed or near completion.)

The Russian boast, coming as it did in the official government newspaper, was taken here as a new move in the East-West war of nerves of Berlin.

It followed Khrushchev's recent announcement that the Soviets were halting demobilization plans and boosting their military expenditures by roughly one-third.

Coupled with the display of Soviet air might put on at Moscow's Tushino Airport July 9, the Soviets now have in effect warned the West that any military showdown would find the Soviet Union armed, ready and a formidable foe on land, sea and air.

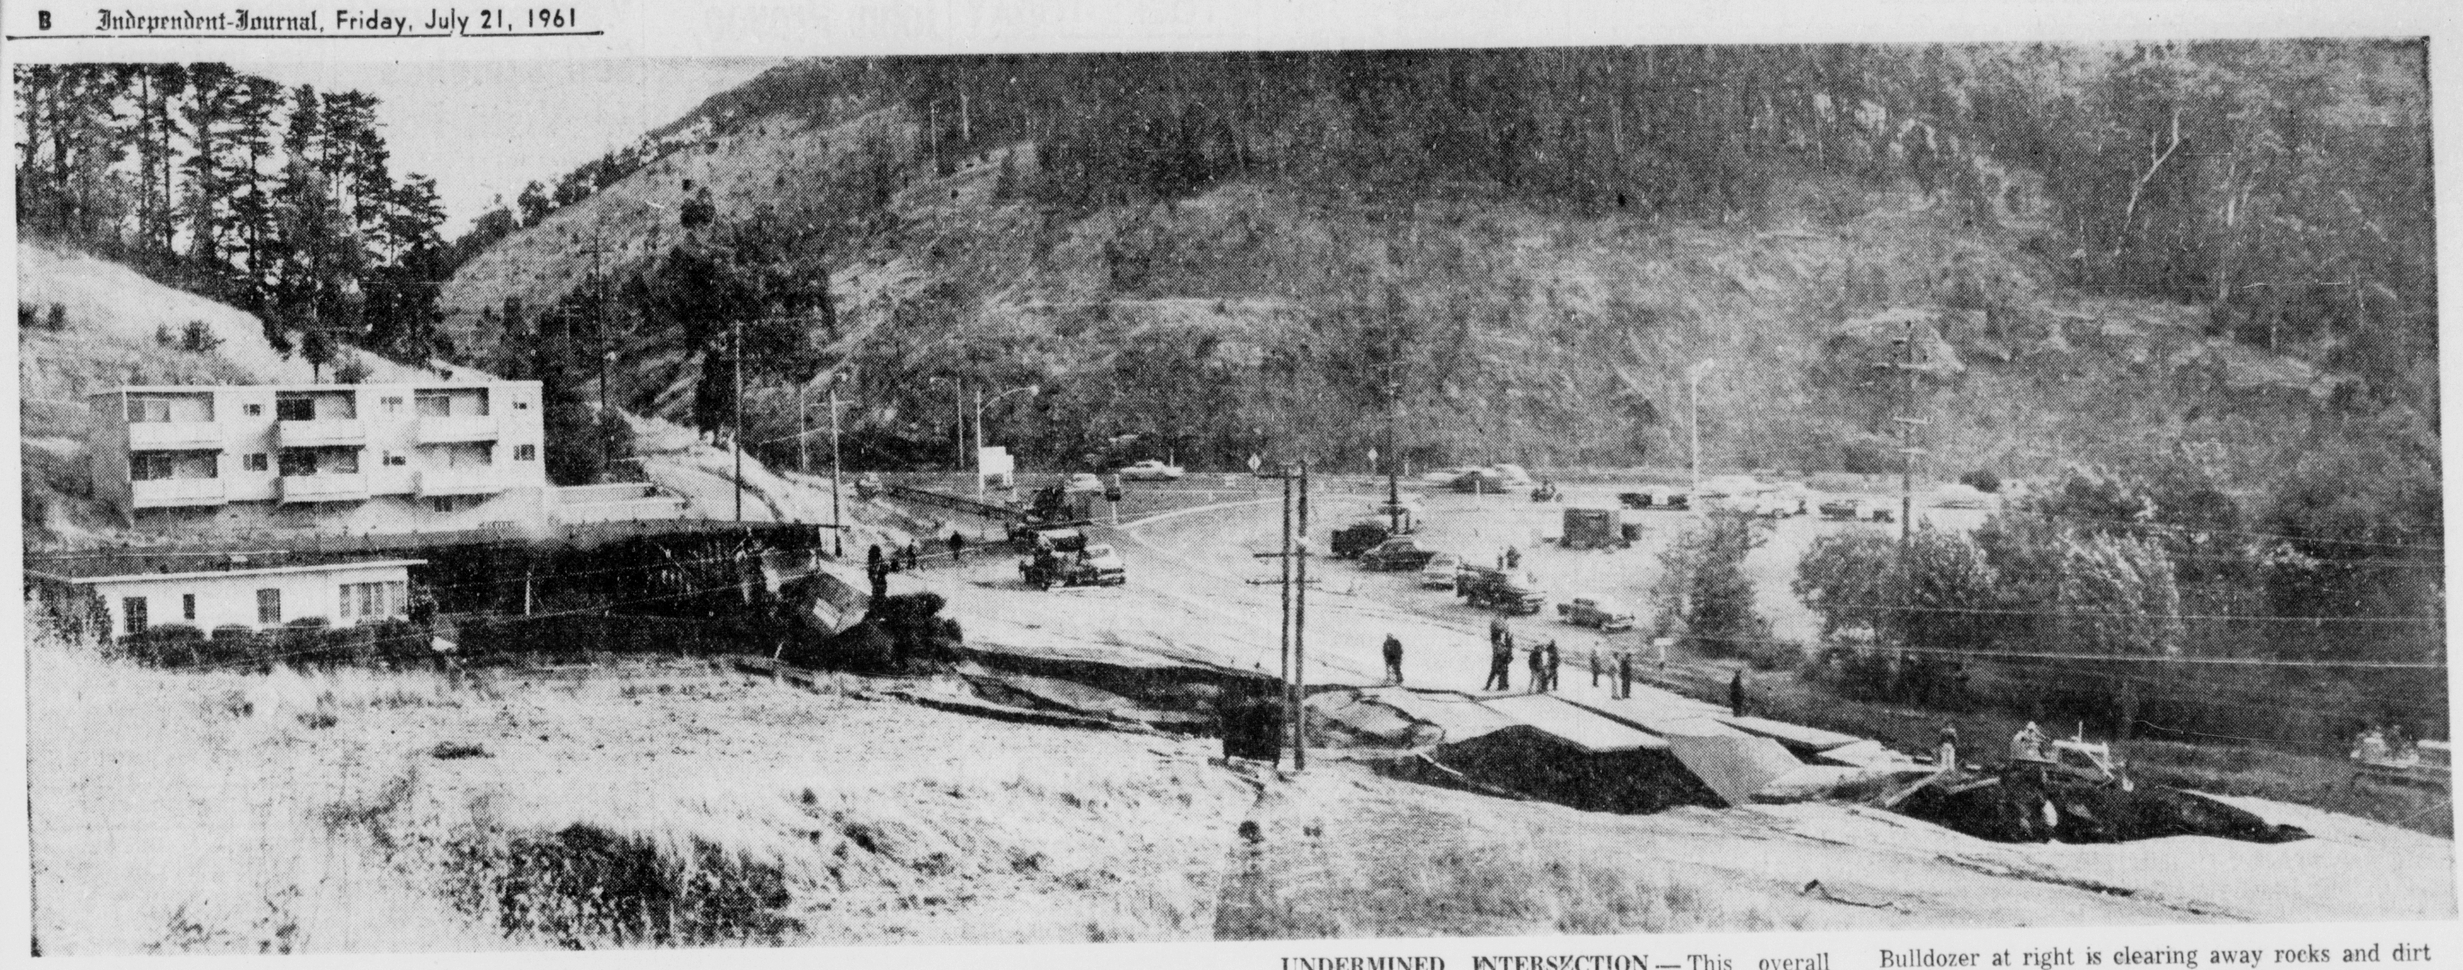

Russia has never shown any nuclear submarines in public.

But Izvestia asked: "How can Mr. Robert Kennedy think that the country that was the first to build an atomic powered station, the powerful atomic icebreaker and which achieved tremendous successes in peaceful use of atomic energy, forgot and did not ponder or think over the creation of an atomic submarine fleet."

UNDERMINED INTERSZCTION — This overall view shows the scene today at Lincoln Avenue and Highway 101, where last night's disastrous railroad tunnel fire cost the life of an Alto fireman. The fireman in his truck disappeared into hole in center of caved-in area, immediately in front of group of men. Bulldozer at right is clearing away rocks and dirt in attempt to reach body. Chula Vista apartments, directly behind burned apartment house, was condemned as in danger of also being swallowed by cave-in.

smoke and taken to San Rafael General Hospital. They were Dan McManus, 68, and his mother, Mary McManus, 97, both checked at the hospital and found all right. They were rescued by Art Burr Sr. of 152 Villa Avenue, San Rafael, volunteer fire-fighter.

Mrs. Irene Rowe, 23, of the same apartment house cut her leg fleeing the fire and was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

Ten of the 12 units in the apartment house which was burned were occupied, three by single men and seven by families. The building is owned by Rudolph Schwartzer of Sonoma. It was for sale for $135,000.

The Chula Vista Apartment building next door was little harmed by the fire but was condemned because the ground began to cave away under it. All occupants fled the building. Owner Ernest Epidendio, proprietor of the Rainbow Market in Larkspur, said the building was valued at $52,000. Five of the six units were occupied.

Arrested for starting the fire were Frederick Alfred Wilson, 13, of 1104 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, and Jimmie James Rogers, 12, of 830 Rincon Way, Santa Venetia.

Both admitted to San Rafael police investigator Nick Giampoli to starting the fire.

The boys' story was:

At about 4:30 p.m., they were walking down the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks. They found some rags and papers which they wrapped around sticks with wire. They entered the 1,365-foot tunnel 100 feet inside when they lit the torches.

The boys started two small fires with rags and papers next to the pillars of the tunnel and then threw one of the flaming torches to the wooden crossmembers above. The 13-year-old then said he removed all his clothing.

As the blaze began burning, two railroad employees, Frank Gladwin and John Ireland, came through the tunnel on a motorized hand car making a routine check.

They saw the two smaller fires and stamped them out, but were unable to cope with the larger fire.

The boys told the men that two teen-age boys had set the fire and ran out the south entrance of the tunnel. When Gladwin rushed from the tunnel to call firemen, the boys slipped out.

The two men told San Rafael police the names which were given to them by the youths, but one proved non-existent and the other proved to be another boy who was nowhere near the fire.

Investigator Giampoli checked the name given to him and found that he had been arrested before for starting a fire in San Rafael and one of the boys with him at the time fit the description given by Gladwin. Police arrested Wilson who confessed and named Rogers as the other young arsonist.

Both boys were put in the Marin County Juvenile Home.

"That 13-year-old needs psychiatric help," Giampoli said. "He told me he had appeared before a probation officer once and was told to be a 'good boy.' That was the only time he had been to the probation office."

Northwestern Pacific Railroad officials were unable today to estimate damage to the line, and said it would probably be a week before tunnel timbers had quit smouldering and had cooled sufficiently for an examination to determine necessary repairs.

It was discovered today the tunnel cave-in had caused breaks in two big pipelines — one 18-inch and the other 12-inch — carrying water from Kent Lake to the northern part of the Marin Municipal Water District.

A tree over the tunnel collapsed as the fire smouldered through the tunnel at 11:24 p.m. It hit the electric wires over the area and slapped them against each other. The voltage of the wires is 12,000 volts, a Pacific Gas and Electric spokesman said. It resulted in a short circuit knocking electricity out of 325 near-by homes for 16 minutes.

PG&E workmen rerouted the gas lines around the cave-in area shutting off the gas in the immediate fire area. None of the homes in the area had gas shut off.

The one fire engine left at the main fire station in San Rafael had to roll to Bayside Acres less than an hour after the call for the Puerto Suello tunnel disaster. Firemen there, including the county fire department, had to battle a 20-acre grass fire off Bayview Drive.

Flames caused $50 damage to the roof of the Renato Ricci home at 157 Bayview Drive, $25 damage to a hammock and undetermined damage to shrubbery, gardens and oak trees on the grounds.

Six units from the Marin County Fire Department, assisted by San Rafael firemen, fought the blaze from 5:41 p.m. until it was controlled at 7:08.

Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Earlier in the day, at 2:52 p.m., a quarter acre of grass and shrubbery burned on Puerto Suello Hill on the west side of Highway 101, near the railroad tunnel. The property is owned by the state. Cause was unknown.

WHERE 26 WERE ROUTED—These two apartment buildings were home to 26 persons until fire and cave-in (foreground) on Lincoln Avenue late yesterday. Water from broken main seeps up through breaks in pavement. Marin Municipal Water District today ordered rationing of water use in San Rafael and environs at north to culinary use only.

JUST IN TIME—Fireman cuts service line moment before pole at far left fell into growing cave-in, sending him scurrying down pole and scattering firemen and onlookers.

Foreign Aid Bill Vote Is Put Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today put over until Monday a final vote on a $4,326,500,000 foreign aid bill tailored to fit most of President John F. Kennedy's specifications. A vote in the Senate itself was scheduled a week from today.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said the bill is practically ready for the expected approving vote in his committee Monday.

THEY WON'T GIVE HER UP

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ludwig, a childless couple of Philadelphia, held their 5-year-old foster daughter, Margaret, in their home yesterday after they were told they would have to give her up after she had been with them for two years. The Children's Aid Society said the child needs special care "because she is not developing emotionally as she should." The Ludwigs say they will fight against giving her up. (AP Wirephoto)

Tomales High Work Bids Above Budget

Two bids received for the renovation of Tomales High School to meet the state fire marshal's recommendations are both above the $9,500 budgeted for the work, Architect George Quesada reported today.

Trustees of the high school district board opened the bids last night. John Levie of Woodacre submitted a base bid of $18,599, and Rapp Construction Co. of Santa Rosa a base bid of $13,200.

The work covers construction of additional exits and stairways, relocation of the administrative offices, and gaining of space for one classroom by a "judicious relocation" of walls. The board hoped for a Sept. 1 completion date.

Quesada said the bids were to be discussed with the county counsel today to see if the board can negotiate with the low bidder, Rapp.

All Those Jets Part Of Tactical Exercise

The increased number of jet fighters which could be heard taking off from Hamilton Air Force Base today were the result of a routine tactical exercise, base officers reported.

The simulated alert was called by the San Francisco Air Defense Sector early this morning and was expected to continue through the day.

Wolfe Grade School Apparent Low Bid Announced

H. D. Grae, general contractor of San Francisco, with a base bid of $89,535, was the apparent low bidder of five for the second phase of the Wolfe Grade School in the Kentfield School District at bid opening yesterday afternoon, Supt. Howard C. Harmon, said.

The base bid is for an administrative suite, library and kindergarten classroom.

Second low bidder was Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross with a base bid of $93,090.

The contract will probably be awarded at the Monday night meeting of the school board, Harmon said. Construction will begin as soon as possible with completion scheduled about the first of next year.

Astronomical Expert Dies In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dr. Paul Willard Merrill, 73, an astronomer associated with the Mount Wilson and Palomar observatories for more than 40 years, died Wednesday at Queen of Angels Hospital.

Merrill is credited with contributing much knowledge of the physics and chemistry of the stars through his work. A member of the National Academy of Sciences, he was honored by the academy and also by the Astronomical Society of the Pacific.

Aluminum Firm Opening In San Rafael

A new distributing outlet and warehouse for aluminum sliding doors and windows will be opened at 20 Front Street, San Rafael, on Aug. 1.

Cal-Tech Systems, Inc., Full View Division, which has its main offices and manufacturing plant in Glendale, will occupy the 10,000-square-foot building that formerly housed Coyne Tempered Glass Co.

Robert Filler, Oakland resident and manager of the Cal-Tech branch in San Carlos, will be manager. The San Carlos office will be closed.

The San Rafael office will cover Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Solano Counties and parts of Alameda County, plus the coast area as far north as Eureka.

The building was leased from Walter Coyne, owner of San Rafael Glass Co. The transaction was handled through Herman Deitch of Marvelous Marin Realty Co.

he was deposited on the deck of the aircraft carrier Randolph. Otherwise, he was reported in good condition.

Grissom rode 118 miles high on the nose of a Redstone rocket and 303 miles down the Atlantic missile range. And he looked down on a view so fascinating he forgot momentarily that he had chores to perform during the 15-minute journey.

President John F. Kennedy watched on television with millions of other Americans as Grissom followed the space trail blazed May 5 by astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. Then he expressed "great pleasure and satisfaction" in a telephone call to Grissom.

The 35-year-old Air Force captain had flown higher (two miles), farther (one mile) and faster (by 180 miles) than Shepard.

His petite wife, Betty, who also watched a TV screen at Newport News, Va., disclosed also that he "achieved a first."

She and their sons, Scott, 11, and Mark, 7, "talked by telephone to Gus as he lay flat on his back in the capsule before it was launched," she said.

Shepard told newsmen Grissom "sprung sort of a big leak. It was coming in through the door."

After making his escape, Grissom was not in danger of sinking. His flight suit was buoyant. But went under water briefly in the wake of the rescue helicopters spinning blades.

The pickup was made 31 minutes after the Redstone booster rocket thundered away from Cape Canaveral.

At 8:01 a.m., the Randolph reported it had Grissom on deck. He was smiling and appeared in excellent condition, none the worse for the crushing forces he had suffered in the blastoff and re-entry and for his swim in shark-infested water.

Another helicopter tried to get a cable on the rung of the space capsule but it disappeared in the depths.

Grissom performed a variety of tasks on the pulse-pounding flight.

For brief periods, he controlled the two-ton space ship by switching its roll, pitch and yaw. Throughout the flight Grissom radioed assurances that his condition was good and that all capsule systems performed normally.

Astronaut Concerned Over Hatch

GRAND BAHAMA ISLAND (UPI) — Astronaut Gus Grissom, who flew 118 miles into space at 5,280 miles an hour, hopped back to land today at the controls of a comparatively snail-paced twin-engined Navy plane.

Grissom was cool and calm as he jumped off the plane at this Bahamian island off the Florida coast after completing the nation's second manned space flight.

His main concern apparently was determining why the hatch of his space capsule blew open before he was ready, letting sea water into the spacecraft and sending it to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean in 2,800 fathoms of water.

Lt. Col. John A. Powers, spokesman for the astronauts, quoted Grissom that "the hatch just went" after he had removed the safety pin, arming the explosive bolts which blow the hatch cover free.

Powers said Grissom "indicated he didn't waste any time getting out of the capsule" when the ocean started to pour in.

Sinatra Buys Black Canyon Area Land

Entertainer Frank Sinatra and a Hollywood partnership with a Sunset Boulevard address have purchased 540 acres in the Black Canyon area of San Rafael, according to papers filed in the County Recorder's office this week.

Edward Halperin and Albert Bara, partners in the Oak Woodlands Corp., sold the land to Sinatra and four other parties for a sum estimated to be in excess of $400,000. The land is located on the ridge above Dominican.

The buyers are listed as Sinatra, "an unmarried man," who has 45 per cent interest; Gang, Tyre, Rudin and Brown of 6400 Sunset Boulevard, Hollywood, 30 per cent interest; Henry W. Sanicola, 15 per cent interest; Samuel Berke and Harry Tugend, 5 per cent interest each.

Halperin said he does not know what Sinatra or the other buyers plan to do with the land. However, he noted that some actors and others in show business often buy land just to hold as investment for re-sale later.

Suspected Wife Beater Jailed

Frank James Vance, 45, a Terra Linda waiter, was jailed last night on suspicion he broke into his estranged wife's home and beat her.

Mrs. Barbara Vance, 31, of 228 Orris Terrace, called for help about 10 o'clock. Just as Sheriff's Deputies eGorge Barnes and Carl Mead arrived, they heard a crashing noise. They ran to the front door and were met by Mrs. Vance, who came running out screaming. The officers stopped Vance as he charged out the door.

Mrs. Vance told investigators she had started annulment proceedings. She said Vance broke down the door and entered her home. Vance was booked on suspicion of assault and battery, disturbing the peace and illegal entry.

John Provoo, Sausalito, Found Dead

Police said 77-year-old John Franklin Provoo, father of a former Pacific area World War II Army sergeant convicted of treason in 1953, was found shot to death late yesterday in the basement of his home at 501 Turney Street, Sausalito.

Police Chief Howard W. Goerndt said a .32-calibre Italian automatic pistol and a note were found near the body. The note complained of ill health.

Provoo was a retired painting contractor.

Provoo's son, former Sgt. John David Provoo, was convicted of treason after being accused of aiding the Japanese invaders when he was captured at Corregidor in the Philippines. An appeals court reversed the conviction. The U.S. Supreme Court banned a retrial and he was released.

The elderly Provoo's body was found about 5:40 p.m. yesterday by another son, George, a medical aide at Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco.

The body was taken to Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

3R Course Set In Classic Roots Of English Words

A special course in the basic classical roots of English words will be repeated in a second summer session of the 3R School in San Rafael starting Monday. Nearly 200 students attended the first session which concluded today.

The special course in basics of vocabulary was developed and is being taught by Robert W. L. Smith, assistant professor of philosophy at San Francisco College for Women. It is being given at the high school and junior high school level at 3R School.

Smith says the course is designed to develop comprehension of the real and basic meanings of familiar words and to facilitate students' understanding of unfamiliar words with Greek and Latin roots.

Classes in all basic subjects, elementary through high school, will be given in the five weeks session, according to Principal Joseph N. Heath.

San Rafael Teen Dance Set Tonight

A junior teen dance for San Rafael students will be held tonight from 8 to 10:30 o'clock at Davidson School.

The dance, sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department, is open only to youngsters 11 to 15 living in the San Rafael High School District.

Dennis Sullivan, recreation supervisor, asked that parents pick up their children at the conclusion of the dance.

Admission is free, and soft drinks will be sold at the dance. Dress is slacks or denims for boys and skirts and blouse for girls. No jeans, or Bermuda shorts will be allowed, Sullivan announced.

Vendors Can't Sell Lunches At Vista Point

Vendors may not sell lunches and other items at Vista Point on the Marin side of Golden Gate Bridge because the area is a part of the highway system.

This in effect was the ruling handed down today by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court in a "test case" brought by the operator of Ralph's Lunchette.

In a two-page verdict, the judge concluded that Vista Point is part of the state highway within the meaning of the Highway Code. Therefore, if vending on state highways is not allowed, the same would apply at Vista Point.

Last week, Ralph Johnson of 216 Marin Street, San Rafael, brought the test case into court. On May 13, he had sent his son Terrance with a mobile lunchette to Vista Point to sell lunches and thus test the legality.

School Budget Hearing Set For Lagunitas

A meeting for hearing on and final approval of the Lagunitas School District budget was set for 8 p.m. Aug. 3 at the Lagunitas School by a meeting of the district board last night.

This year's estimated budget totals $156,911, about $700 under the former year total of $157,693.

Decision was made to employ a part time bus driver for the school, providing operation of two buses instead of one. Supt. Clifford L. Frye said today that applications may be addressed to the Lagunitas School, San Geronimo, and that the work will be about half time at pay not yet decided.

The board decided to arrange for a part-time speech therapist through the county office.

Last night's meeting took the place of the one which by normal schedule would be held July 27. Similarly the budget meeting Aug. 3 will be combined with and take the place of the meeting which regularly would be held Aug. 10.

Equalization Hearings Set

Equalization hearings will be continued by Marin County supervisors next week but indications this morning were that they need not be protracted past about mid-week, due to the relatively small number of appeals against assessor's valuations.

With filings due to terminate at 5 p.m. today, the total at 11 a.m. was 141 which officials said is substantially below average. The supervisors sat as a board of equalization this morning and hearings were scheduled for the mornings of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week.

Due to regular supervisorial sessions the afternoons on Monday and Tuesday there can be only morning equalization hearings those days. But if there is a rush of last-minute filings, equalization hearings may continue Wednesday afternoon or even later.

Maria Martin Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Maria B. Martin, 65, a former Marin resident, died yesterday at a local hospital after long illness.

She and her late husband, Manuel V. Martin, at one time were part owners of the Tennessee Cove Ranch near Mill Valley.

Mrs. Martin had lived at her present ranch home at 996 Pepper Road, north of Petaluma, for the past four years. Also living on the ranch is her son, Ernest J. Martin, and two grandchildren.

Mrs. Martin was born on St. George's Island, the Azores. She was a member of the SPRSI, UPEC, Brotherhood of St. Anthony, APPB and Luso American Fraternal Federation.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Redwood Chapel, Novato. R Requiem Mass will be sung at 9 a.m. Monday at Our Lady of Loretto Church, Novato. Entombment will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

Tunisian President Orders French Oil Pipeline Seized

TUNIS (AP) — French and Tunisians fought in the streets of Bizerte city today, and Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba ordered seizure of the French pipeline that carries the output of France's Sahara oil field.

Bourguiba said he had ordered his troops to seize the pipeline at Skhira, in southern Tunisia. The line carries the output of France's Edjele field, 225 miles southeast of the Tunisian border.

The president also called for volunteers from all "brother nations" to help in his desperate fight against France. He said Tunisia's ambassadors in all countries had been ordered to enlist the volunteers and that Libyans and Algerians had already offered their services.

The Tunisian government radio reported that dug-in Tunisian infantrymen and civilian volunteers were battling French paratroops supported by tanks and rocket planes in the city of Bizerte astride the channel from the Mediterranean to the French naval base at Bizerte.

Radio Tunis said French forces broke out of the besieged Bizerte naval base and launched a pre-dawn attack on the Mediterranean port city three miles away.

Tunisian troops holding the city of 40,000 defied a French ultimatum to evacuate. They were ordered to fight to the death.

The Tunis broadcast said there were "numerous dead and wounded" but Tunisian infantry were holding their own in the heart of the city. Officials estimated 15,000 volunteers in and around the city were bolstering the troops. Many were wearing the red shorts and shirts of the youth section of the ruling Neo-Destour Freedom party.

Paris reports and the official Tunis news agency reported other clashes between Tunisian "volunteers" and French forces in the Sahara Desert.

The fighting spread as the U.N. Security Council was called into an emergency session at the request of Tunisia to deal with the mounting crisis. The Tunisians charged France with aggression and demanded the French give up the Bizerte naval base they kept after granting their former protectorate independence in 1956.

The United States showed growing concern over the clash between allied France and friend Tunisia and appealed to both to "end hostilities without delay."

Arab nations lined up behind Tunisia, denouncing "French imperialists."

St. Vincent Boys Turn Firefighters

Students at St. Vincent's School for Boys north of San Rafael turned firemen last night when the exterior wall of the school blacksmith shop caught fire.

Novato firemen called at 7:08 p.m. reported that the blaze was under control by the time they arrived because the boys had used school fire fighting equipment.

The fire started from sparks of nearby "controlled burning" of grass and weeds. It burned the exterior wall of the small wooden and sheet metal building and part of the shingled roof.

The school is in the county fire protection district but pays $200 yearly to the Novato District for protection as Novato equipment is closer.

Vacationers Forced To Flee Roaring Blazes

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two roaring brush fires fanned by shifting winds raced through the dry Santa Cruz Mountains 80 per cent out of control today, forcing vacationers to flee.

The blaze, touched off Tuesday by a sparking pump motor at the Almaden Air Force radar station south of San Jose, had blackened about 4,000 acres by last night, a State Division of Forestry spokesman said.

One fire was reported heading southeast across Loma Prieta ridge south of New Almaden. The other twisted northeast toward the Twin Creeks area southwest of New Almaden.

Two homes were destroyed in the Loma Prieta area and about 30 families fled their cabins in the Twin Creeks sector.

The leaping flames were visible to residents in San Jose, Watsonville, Santa Cruz and other communities in Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties.

"If we get a break from the wind, there's a chance we can contain it by possibly tomorrow night," a Forestry spokesman said.

Meanwhile, fire fighters hoped to control a 17,000-acre Kings River fire east of Fresno by tomorrow. The blaze, which began last Thursday, has destroyed more than one million dollars worth of valuable timber, officials said.

Two specially trained crews from San Bernardino and Angeles National Forest fought the flames yesterday on the south slope of rugged Rogers Ridge.

The State Division of Forestry said a 1,000-acre blaze was burning out of control on private land 14 miles northeast of Marysville and another 1,000 acre fire was burning eight miles west of Paso Robles.

Rescuers Searching For Dead In Flood

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A weary band of mud-caked men began anew today a search they prayed would be fruitless.

A flash flood here already had taken 17 lives. They hoped a half-dozen people still listed as missing had escaped.

"It's our worst disaster," the Charleston mayor, John Shanklin, said sadly. "We won't know for a long time just how bad it is."

One state official estimated property damage alone in West Virginia's capital city would amount to five million dollars.

Dazed survivors started returning to the ravines where their homes once stood.

They saw what had happened when a torrent of water, fed by nearly six inches of rainfall, had swept through the valleys late Wednesday night.

They wandered up and down the hill-imprisoned streets.

They poked about the debris, afraid they would find relatives last seen before the deluge.

About 50 houses were splintered by the flood. Countless cars were battered beyond salvage. The waters chased an estimated 500 families from their homes.

Gov. W. W. Barron asked President John F. Kennedy to declare Charleston and surrounding sections a disaster area, eligible for federal aid.

"Hardship and suffering are so severe," Barron told Kennedy, "that federal assistance is required to supplement the limited aid state and local authorities are able to render."

Kennedy replied he had ordered an immediate report. The disaster, said the president, "is of great concern to me."

Offers of vehicles and rescue equipment flowed in from cities throughout the Kanawha and the Ohio valleys.

Arrests In Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Nine clergymen were arrested last night in the segregated waiting room of the municipal airport, bringing to 256 the number of persons here since May 24 in integration attempts.

The biracial group of two Negroes and seven whites was jailed on breach of the peace charges when police orders to "move on" from the terminal waiting room were ignored.

Arab League Rejects Iraqi Claim To Kuwait Sheikdom

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Arab League rejected Iraq's claim to Kuwait last night and authorized planning for an Arab force to protect the oil-rich little sheikdom's new independence.

League Secretary - General Abdel Khalek Hassouna announced he will hold urgent consultations with his military advisers and representatives of the Arab states to raise a special force to replace the British troops sent to Kuwait after Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassen laid claim to the former British protectorate.

The league council overrode Iraq's vehement protests and admitted Kuwait as the group's 11th member. The council also directed Hassouna to take steps to safeguard Kuwait's independence against Iraq's annexation threats.

The Iraqi delegation, contending that Kuwait could not be a league member because it is part of Iraq, walked out of the council session before vote.

Auto Salesman To Begin Jail Term

William Stanley Richards, 49, one of four San Rafael auto salesmen convicted of grand theft and fraud in 1958, is scheduled to eappear in Marin Superior Court Monday morning to start his jail term.

Richards appealed the conviction and has not served the nine month jail sentence pending the appeal. The other three have already served their time.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said he has been informed that the state Supreme Court has denied Richards' appeal and affirmed the Marin conviction, which means Richards should appear Monday morning before Judge N. Charles Brusatori for execution of sentence.

Richards and three other salesmen of the former Towne-Martin auto agency were convicted of defrauding car buyers under a referral sales program.

Rolling Hills Assessment Hike Approved

Rolling Hills residents met with the Tiburon Sanitary District board last night and received confirmation of their voluntary 10 per cent assessment increase. The increase will enable the Hilarita Housing Project to be part of the new Tiburon Upland Area sewer project.

The board also officially approved the $60,000 offer made by the Marin County Housing Authority to include the Hilarita project.

The board will hold an adjourned meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the sanitary plant to award the contract, said Robert A. Sterling, secretary.

'Parent Trap' Now Showing At Rafael

By LES DARD

The coming week offers more interesting films for Marin movie-goers:

RAFAEL THEATER

Walt Disney gives the whole family another treat in "The Parent Trap," now on the Rafael screen.

Remember "Pollyanna" Hayley Mills? She's just twice as cute in this charming comedy: she plays twins.

The plot in brief: Two lovely, identical teen-agers (both Hayley) discover each other at summer camp. Hostile at first, they finally realize they are in fact twin sisters, separated in infancy by divorcing parents. They decide to bring about a reconciliation.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

We get our first look starting Sunday at a delightful new Jerry Lewis picture on the Hub screen: "The Ladies Man." In this one funnyman Jerry stars, produces, directs and was co-author.

It's an appealing comedy in which Jerry is the only male working in a hotel for 30 women.

Helen Traubel, Kathleen Freeman, Hope Holiday and Lynn Ross perform some bright character bits.

One for the whole famliy.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Marlon Brando's big Western, "One-Eyed Jacks," comes to this screen Sunday.

Even those who are lukewarm about Westerns admit this film packs a big wallop. It takes a well-worn plot, about a wronged badman who seeks revenge on an ex-pal, and gives it a powerful new look through sheer craftsmanship.

Brando plays a bandit, Karl Malden his confederate whose treachery sends Brando to prison.

Katy Jurado and Pina Pellicer are also in the film.

FAIRFAX THEATER

An Oscar-winning combination takes over the Fairfax screen tonight: "The Apartment" (Best Film, 1960) and "Elmer Gantry."

"Apartment" is one of the most genuinely funny Hollywood productions in years. It relates the ludicrous plight of a bachelor who lends out his apartment to office mates.

The film stars Jack Lemmon, Shirley MacLaine and Fred MacMurray.

"Elmer Gantry" is a film of quite another breed.

It is the story of a fire-eating evangelist who is more profiteer than prophet.

It stars Burt Lancaster, Jean Simmons, Dean Jagger, Arthur Kennedy and Shirley Jones, who also won an Oscar for her supporting role.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Another of Walt Disney's fine, funny, family-type hits opens Sunday. It's "Absent-Minded Professor."

Fred MacMurray stars as the small-town college chemistry professor who, one day develops something he calls "flubber" — flying rubber, a substance which—once applied—sends his Model T. off into the wild blue yonder.

This is one for fun.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Pepe" is an amiable potpourri built around the antics of that great clown, Cantinflas. It opens Sunday.

About 35 famous faces — Debbie Reynolds, Durante, Crosby, Chevalier, for example— crowd the screen in brief cameos. Chevalier even does his famous "Mimi."

The story deals with Cantinflas (Pepe) and his beloved horse. When the stallion winds up in possession of Dan Dailey, a down-and-out Hollywood director, the comic tags along just to be near the animal.

In Las Vegas, Cantinflas wins a bundle, which Dailey appropriates to try a comeback. Shirley Jones enters about this time as a down-and-out actress. She winds up stealing your heart in Dailey's arms.

Cantinflas? He gets the horse.

NOVATO THEATER

Science-fiction fans will have a field day starting Sunday at the Novato Theater.

Featured are "Gorgo" and "Atlantis, the Lost Continent."

If you think the movies have been a little short of late on monsters who can destroy entire cities, "Gorgo" will fill this vital need. It's a British-made, super-duper horror film in Technicolor.

"Atlantis" involves newcomers Anthony Hall and Joyce Taylor in an absorbing science-fiction film.

TRAPPED—Hayley Mills teams up with Haley Mills (she plays twins) and Maureen O'Hara in Walt Disney's technicolor romantic-comedy, "The Parent Trap." They play mother and daughters in the film now showing at the Rafael Theater.

Almonte Club Backs Building Site Protest

The Almonte Improvement Club today announced support of Almonte and Marin Terrace mothers who have demonstrated against building homes on substandard lots on Harvard Avenue in Mill Valley.

E. John Ross, club secretary, said, "We are aware of the problem and are studying it. We stand behind the people protesting against the situation."

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Imagine Cool Atmosphere, Tasty Veal —Man, You're Floating On Cloud 5

It must have been the coolest place in Novato and the veal stew I had for lunch prepared by Christine Bolton was the best I ever tasted. Chris likes to get her meats on the table when they are fresh instead of in the refrigerator.

The cold buffet looked mighty enticing, too, but the temperature in Cloud 5 was so much more pleasant than outside, thanks to the air conditioning, I was glad of my choice. The veal was succulent, beautifully trimmed and cooked.

Lunches here run from 85 cents to $1.25 and they're worth all the hot degrees of driving to get there.

Dinners, too. There's a fine selection of German dishes—wiener schnitzel garniert, Ungarisches rinds goulash mit spatzen and kassler ripschen mit sauerkraut, along with broiler and seafood items and flambe orders.

Make it on a Saturday night and enjoy dinner dancing in the Sky Room. Dinners start at 5 p.m., dancing from 9:30. They had to extend the Sky Room bar to accommodate the fans of its popular administrator Tony Martinez, who's right at home, being a Hamilton Field parachutist.

BUSINESS should be livelier than usual tonight and tomorrow night at San Rafael Joe's.

Another popular mixologist, Al Bernardini, has a birthday anniversary today and he'll be on the receiving end of many friendly greetings.

And after tomorrow night, Joe's will close down to undergo its final stages of remodeling. It's expected to open again about the first of August.

NEW CHEF at the Wiltshire Towers is Melvin Gillis who was many years at Sam's in Tiburon and more recently has been running his own place in Healdsburg.

This is another well air-conditioned spot. Breakfasts, lunches and dinners, always sumptious, are the more enjoyable for the pleasant climate inside. Wine is now included in the regular dinners for two. Steaks and seafood are the big draw.

AND THOUGH it's not a specialized seafood restaurant, Dominic's might as well become so, being on the water and with the increased demands in that line from the customers.

Take petrali, for instance—a sort of de luxe sole. Dominic's has been ordering about 100 pounds of it a week—all "portion controlled," which is to say that each slice is the same size—about eight ounces. It's brought to the restaurant daily from Marin Seafoods who receives it early each morning from the boats.

WE SHOULD MENTION here that the annual Auxiliary Firemen's Barbecue and Dance will be taking place tomorrow night at Rancho Nicasio. The $2.50 per person covers a fine dinner and a gala event—fashion show, entertainment and dancing to Jack Barnes' orchestra. Proceeds go to the Nicasio Auxiliary Fire Department and it's worth attending.

DAVE BELLUCCI who's gone into the resort business in a big way with his brother and Karl Katlas of Novato by buying the Adobe Creek Lodge in Los Altos will still keep up his Italian dinery in Ignacio.

Dinner only, here—spaghetti dishes, ravioli, pizza and chicken—prepared by chef Claude Booth.

Dave tells me he has made the swimming pool available for occasional dunkers as well as seasonal members, on a special price of 15 swims for $10.

RANCH WAGON ENTERTAINERS — The Gene Byrnes Combo plays Friday and Saturday nights at the Colonel's spot on the Redwood Highway. Leader Gene Byrnes is a drum specialist, Jim Polos doubles on sax and flute, George Campanelli handles piano and accordion.

The earth's largest living thing, the giant sequoia tree, sprouts from a tiny seed resembling a rolled oat. It takes 3,000 seeds to make an ounce.

GOOD FOOD IS MY LINE

By COL. MAX HOROWITZ

If you're at all like me, you wonder at times how they prepare various foods and confections. One of the most intriguing curiosities to me was how the syrupy liquid was put inside cordial cherry candy. The process is based on the fact that sugar dissolves easily in water. In making the candy, the confectioner coats a juicy maraschino cherry with sugar and a small amount of yeast is added to the sugar. This makes the sugar more soluble. Finally, the sugar-covered cherry is covered rapidly with melted chocolate. The juice in the cherry and the yeast in the sugar coating combine to turn the dry coating into the delicious liquid cordial.

Mr. and Mrs. Korteland of Rotterdam, Holland, visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Greeven of Marin County celebrated Mrs. Korteland's birthday last week at the Colonel's Ranch Wagon.

HIGHLY EDUCATED CHAT

Former President Herbert Hoover, flanked by Stanford University President Dr. Wallace Sterling (left) and University of California Chancellor Clark Kerr, discussed education last night in the lobby of the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco prior to a dinner sponsored for a group interested in non-tax support of higher education. Marin Slaying Conviction Is Reversed

A second-degree murder conviction of Robert Burdette Rogers has been reversed by the state Supreme Court, according to word received yesterday by Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety.

Rogers was found guilty in 1959 of murdering his wife in San Rafael.

Garety said that "we certainly will" retry Rogers on the charge that he shot his wife with a rifle. Mrs. Bertie Rogers, 35, died of a bullet wound in the head. The rifle was fired from behind.

Garety, who prosecuted as assistant district attorney, and defense attorneys stipulated that verdicts of first degree murder or innocence would be ruled out when trying the case.

Mrs. Rogers allegedly had been living with another man prior to the time she was shot Aug. 9, 1959, in the home of her mother at 9 Greenwood Avenue, San Rafael.

Air Conditioners Stolen At Academy

Officials at San Rafael Military Academy are hot over a "cool burglary" yesterday at the academy.

San Rafael police reported that two air conditioners worth $415 were stolen from the west windows of the administration building.

The conditioners, purchased June 14, had been pulled loose from the window sills, Officer Ray Bleasdale reported.

Drought Disaster Funds For Marin Ranchers

Marin County poultry raisers, ranchers or others who feel they have suffered economic injury because of current heat or drought conditions may apply for 3 per cent loans under a drought disaster program, according to Edward L. Turkington, regional director in San Francisco for the Small Business Administration.

The office is at 525 Market Street and it has been authorized to accept and process applications. Loans will be for a maximum period of 20 years. Marin is one of four counties designated for loans but is considered a relatively light sufferer.

'A Midsummer's Dream' Filled With Top Acting

By KARL BARRON

The gossamer evils of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" lend themselves well to the setting where they're being performed by the Marin Shakespeare Festival, which bills itself as Northern California's first Stratford Theater. The setting — the Marin Art and Garden Center amphitheater.

And those evils and joys are well performed by the company John and Ann Brebner have forged in the past few months. Compared to the closest similar venture—at Ashland, Oregon—the Marin Festival may seem lacking, but a cast brimming with talent and well paced by the Brebners, compensates.

Topping the players is Norma Leistiko, whose Helena moves far beyond the usual comedy interpretation to reach points of genuine pathos. We select her performance over that of Bill Murray as Bottom with hesitation.

The bumbling tradesmen, Bottom, Quine, Snout, Starling, Snug and Flute, are cast with sheer genius, and I'm sure, a little bit of luck. Any director would need a little to come up with a sextette of naturals such as this.

William Pritz, whose every expression as Flute (and Thisby) is hysterical; Larry Allen, Dennis Percy, Louis Casazza, Brian Rowlands and Murray—all are tops. Murray could use a larger mouth in his Ass's Head. He became indistinct at times.

Foiling Miss Leistiko Helena well are Ron Reese, a Lysander who can act as well as look handsome, and Jackson De Govia, whose Demetrius borders at times on burlesque, only to be pulled back by Brebner's deft direction.

Bruce Chesse portrays a waspish Puck who is engaging throughout, and Joe Gostanian's Oberon is played for its sympathy rather more than is usual for the part. Gostanian's voice, incidentally, is a dead ringer for the late Dylan Thomas reading his own poetry.

The production opens in Stratford fashion with singing and dancing, with Merrit Herring coming in for some praise for his easy presentation of half a dozen Elizabethan-type ballads.

We felt that the opening scene of the play dragged, but it's Shakespeare's fault as much as Brebner's. Why didn't Will open it with Quince's players, and then go back to set his plot?

The production will run Friday and Saturday for the next five weekends, and already plans are under way for a repertory next summer comprised of "Twelfth Night" and "A Winter's Tale."

Three Artists Plan Showing In Mill Valley

Two widely known Mill Valley area artists and an equally renowned painter from Sausalito will display recent work in a group show to open at The Gallery in Mill Valley next Monday.

The Gallery, at 17 Madrona Street, is open from noon to midnight Monday through Saturday, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Those whose work will be seen in the show listed as "Three Contemporaries: Recent Paintings," are Maggie Hazel of 240 East Strawberry Drive, Strawberry, and Paula Palmer of 154 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, and Serge Trubach of 631 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

Mrs. Hazel has won a prize for abstract oils at the Marin Art and Garden Fair and has had one-man shows in San Francisco and numerous other cities. She belongs to several art groups including the San Francisco Art Institute Art Institute and Art Bank and the Marin Society of Artists.

Mrs. Palmer, wife of photographer and author Phil Palmer, had a one-man water color show at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor and recently completed her master's thesis in painting at San Francisco Art Institute and Art Bank and the Marin Society of Artists.

Trubach has studied in New York and Paris and has had many one-man shows in New York, Boston and San Francisco. He has won a number of prizes including the Tiffany Fellowship and the San Francisco Art Festival Prize. He was a juror for art at the recent State Fair and is well known as critic and lecturer.

The hottest days in the United States usually occur in late July and August when the oceans and air have warmed. Once the ocean and air have stored up heat, less sunshine is needed to sustain high temperatures.

U.S. School Authorities Back JFK Fitness Plan

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

School authorities across the nation agreed today with President John F. Kennedy about the urgency of physical fitness for pupils. But most pointed out that existing programs equal or exceed the chief executive's recommendations.

The president, alarmed lest this turn into a nation of weaklings, has called for a minimum of 15 minutes of vigorous activity each day in every school in the country.

An official in the state education department in New York said pupils are expected to receive more time for vigorous exercise than the amount proposed by Kennedy.

High schools in the state are required to provide a total of 300 minutes a week of physical activity.

California law requires that all secondary schools throughout the state have a daily physical education period.

The physical education requirements in Florida schools exceed the president's recommendations.

Elementary schools by state regulation must provide 30 minutes daily for grades 1-6. Junior high school students receive a minimum of three 50-minute periods weekly and high school students a minimum of five 50-minute periods weekly for a minimum of two years.

Twenty minutes of physical education are given daily at all the grade levels in Seattle schools, with stress on calisthenics.

Darrel Smith, supervisor of physical education in San Diego schools, commented: "Mechanized living has made us softer, there's no question about it, but we're doing our best to counteract this in gyms and on playgrounds."

San Diego's schools are ahead of the proposed minimum, Smith added. Secondary schools have 55-minute daily physical education and elementary schools 20 minutes in addition to recess play.

David Horowitz, associate superintendent of schools in Philadelphia, said pupils there actually get more exercise than the 15 minutes the president recommended, though it isn't all necessarily strenuous.

Secondary pupils take two 45-minute periods of physical education each week, and many senior high and technical high pupils have four such periods a week. Elementary pupils have at least 75 minutes weekly plus 25 to 45 minutes of health education in classrooms.

A. A. Buschman, coordinator for physical education, health instruction and recreation in the Dallas school district, commented, "We've been devoting part of physical education periods to such exercise for a long time.

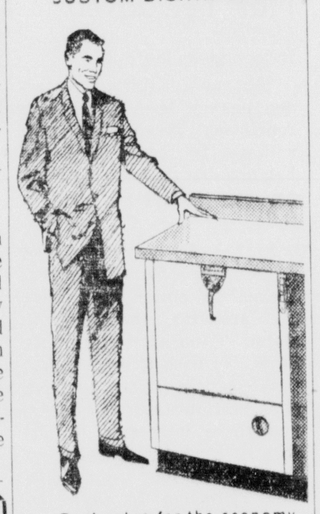

"High school students get 8-10 minutes of exercise each physical education period and elementary youngsters 5-6 minutes each play period."

School officials in the Portland, metropolitan area said their physical education program is already as good if not better than what the President is recommending. They all voiced enthusiasm for his recommendations and indicated they would step up their programs where possible.

Concrete Living

Indoor-outdoor living with all rooms opening outside through sliding glass doors will be stressed in a house built by John Novak of Novato, located on Novato's Lynwood Drive in Lynwood Heights, and to be shown Sept. 23 to Oct. 1 as one of three Bay area homes featuring concrete and concrete products.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

How Can You Trust Groups That Keep Members Secret?

In the United States of America our citizens have traditionally demanded that things affecting public welfare be done in the open.

Any accused person has the right to confront his accusers face-to-face in court and question them along appropriate lines.

Federal laws require that political advertisements carry the name of a person responsible for publication.

George Washington demanded "open covenants, openly arrived at," in governmental dealings.

Most responsible newspapers nowadays refuse to print anonymous letters-to-the editor.

Even the names of the owners and editors of newspapers and other periodicals are required by law to be published periodically so that readers may know who exactly is responsible for what's written.

But in Marin County we have a faceless group that continues to wield influence in local affairs without divulging essential facts regarding its complexion and make-up.

In this regard it is somewhat reminiscent of the Ku Klux Klan or perhaps even the John Birch Society, neither of which divulge their membership rolls or much else in the way of essential information.

Only this week, the Marin County Taxpayers Association president, P. J. Rowland, once more refused to disclose membership information requested by the Board of Supervisors.

He explained that the board of directors of the taxpayers association had decided against divulging such information. (In this respect they are a bit like the Ku Klux Klan and the John Birch Society, the Communist Party and other faceless groups.)

Some years ago the Board of Supervisors was beset by people claiming to represent one group or another of vague existence. Almost in self defense, the supervisors adopted a requirement that such representatives had to file certain information about their organizations with the county so as to establish the validity of their existence and the authority of the representative to speak for the group.

In our opinion, some such requirement should once more be instituted so that we may know when a person speaks for a group just what the group amounts to, if anything.

The taxpayers association has in times past refused membership information even to members, we have been informed. Also, members and others we know have tried without success to obtain copies of the by-laws so as to have a clear idea of what the organization is formed for and how it operates.

Not long ago there were reports that fiscal accounting similarly was vague and obscure. People who wanted to know exactly how much money the association had, where it came from and what it was used for and the procedures for expending it likewise got nowhere in their quest for this information.

Our own conclusion in this column several years ago was that the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. had become a label, passed from one self-interest, axe-grinding group to another as expediency dictated.

This shroud of secrecy seems to us to indicate that our conclusion probably is still correct today; else, why the secrecy?

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

It Wasn't Exactly A Nightmare, It Was More Like An Elephant

NEW YORK (AP)—I dreamed the other night that my wife remarried—this time to an elephant.

It's not too hard to figure out why an ordinary husband would have a dream like this.

One of the most vexing things about most wives to most husbands is their inordinate memory.

No machine, fed endless information on tape, can match the total recall born in wives. The many incidents of ordinary living that don't register at all in a husband's mind—and others that he wisely chooses to regret and forget—stay in a wife's mind at her immortal beck and call.

A wife cannot simply forget to remember.

Well, anyway, I had this odd dream the other night. I had passed on to the remembrance of a grateful posterity. My wife, after counting the insurance and a suitable period of quiet jubilation, married an elephant.

Many of her friends thought this was rather an unusual choice as the elephant wasn't, as elephants go, an outstanding character. But those who best knew Frances, my wife, realized the reason—the elephant to her bore a sentimental resemblance to her first husband. And he had an added virtue: He didn't drink martinis.

"The best headstand you did, Jumbo," said Frances, pausing in her knitting, "was before those 10,679 fans in Omaha on Aug. 12. It was such a hot night. You were simply magnificent. And I was so proud of you."

Reaching boredly out for another peanut, Jumbo replied: "You have it all wrong, kid. The best headstand I did was in Kansas City on Aug. 1 before 12,435 people.

"Incidentally, we played in Omaha on Aug. 13—not Aug. 12—before a lousy crowd of 3,819, my foot slipped and I fell on my back, and it rained that day and the highest temperature was 67 degrees.

"Can't you get anything straight?"

"Sorry, dear," said Frances.

So it went, night after night, Elephants in winter quarters like to recall the previous season. But every time Frances tactfully attempted to bolster Jumbo's ego with some remembrance he would say: "It didn't happen that way—it happened this way. Can't you ever get anything straight? What's the matter with your mind?"

Finally, one evening, Frances broke into tears and said: "Living with a husband with a perfect memory is just too much for a woman. I wish I had my first husband back."

"WELL, KID," sneered Jumbo, with an air of mock sympathy as he reached out with his trunk and patted her on the shoulder, "it's a little bit late to be thinking of that, isn't it?"

Right about then my dream ended. Blinking in the morning sunlight, I awoke and looked across at my wife.

"YOU GOT home rather late last night," said Frances. "Just where were you?"

"I forget," I mumbled.

"You forget awfully easily," she said. "Sometimes I wish I had married an elephant. They never forget."

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

"Take a picture of that. I'd like to show the critics of contemporary art back home what Communist art is REALLY like . . . !"

10 YEARS AGO

Backers of the Reber plan to solve water and transportation problems for the North Bay Area asked Marin County supervisors to withdraw support for the proposed San Rafael-Richmond bridge, but the board refused.

The Marin Conservation League gave $10,000 toward purchase of Tomales Bay land for a state park, to which the county had given $16,500.

"The largest farming enterprise in Marin County" changed hands as R. W. Hanna of Burlingame paid $600,000 for the 2,595-acre Marin Meadows Ranch, devoted to growing grain and seed and located next to Hamilton Air Force Base. H. Ward Dawson, the seller, bought it in 1948 for $300,000.

Several weeks ago, I addressed a letter to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control Board, asking why the sawdust furnace of the local planing mill is allowed to continue its operation. Up to the present time, I have not had the courtesy of a reply.

Smaller air pollution nuisances have been forced to discontinue under threat of severe fines and penalties. Why this community disgrace has been allowed to continue over the years of air pollution control is beyond the knowledge of every person whom I have asked. Perhaps you can enlighten us.

FusselmanBelieves In Economizing

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Reader E. L. Daggett does not know why Mr. Fusselman's constituents return him to his office again and again, (Jets Scare Cows, Not Fusselman—I-J, July 17, 1951). The answer is simple. The electorate of Marin County is an intelligent, progressive group—not a 19th century backwards-looking group. Those in Mr. Fusselman's district who voted for him did so because they believe he is a sincere, capable, intelligent man doing a fine job in the interest of all Marin County citizens. Certainly he cannot make sweeping economic moves. Certain services cannot be curtailed without definite harm and loss. Some expenses are due to the previous administration. Mr. Fusselman believes in economizing where it is practicable.

Those who disagree with Mr. Fusselman's policies are also intelligent persons with an honest difference of opinion.

Wildflowers Not Yet Saved

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Tiburon's wildflower garden has not been saved, only reprieved. These two acres will not be secure until the balance due ($35,000 plus 6½ per cent interest) is paid in full.

In the I-J report of the Landmarks Society having exercised its option to acquire the property, the headline stated "Tiburon Wildflowers Saved." I wish it were true.

We cannot afford to have conservationists, botanists, and those interested in historical landmarks, relax as though the job were done. The campaign to save the wildflowers continues and we hope that the $10,000 collected within the three-month opiton period is indicative that we can have this land free and clear within a year.

The sooner we pay off the principal, the less we have to raise. Contributions and pledges may be sent to the Wildflower Fund, Landmarks Society, P. O. Box 134, Belvedere-Tiburon. Donations are tax deductible.

We also want to thank your paper for its coverage of this undertaking and the feature stories which have appeared in the magazine section. Since many contributions were sent as the result of publicity rather than solicitation, we appreciate your help. In fact, we are dependent upon it.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As an old time subscriber to the Independent-Journal, I wish to correct what I think was an injustice to a fine person, Chief Howard Clark of Larkspur.

I have reference to the headline in your paper the other evening about the attempted robbing of my service station.

I wonder how many would like to enter a station at 3:30 a.m. knowing a person or persons were inside in the dark waiting.

The chief, although badly cut by the broken windows, performed his duties, the offender was apprehended and everything was quiet again in Larkspur.

20 YEARS AGO

Dist. Atty. A. E. Bagshaw started action in Superior Court to oust Supervisors T. F. Bagshaw of Mill Valley and R. A. Thompson of Novato from joint jobs with the Golden Gate Bridge, on the ground that it is "incompatible" to hold both positions at once.

Henry L. Smith, San Rafael cook, was sentenced in federal court to two years' imprisonment for draft evasion and was denied right of appeal.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

As they stepped out into the cool summer night, and left the noisy, overheated cocktail party within, a wife faced her husband squarely and demanded, "Elmer, did anybody tell you in there that you were ordained the life of the party, the greatest wit, the greatest raconteur, and the greatest lover boy in town?"

"No, dear," admitted the puzzled husband. "I can't say anybody did."

"Exactly," said the wife grimly. "Now tell me this: just where did you get the idea?"

Two parrots were carving up a third parrot who was not within earshot. "I tell you," croaked one, "that parrot's owner is a lush." "How can you tell?" asked the other. "It's obvious," said the first parrot. "Did you ever hear of another bird who keeps saying, 'Polly wants a canape?' "

Have you heard about the town's clumsiest butcher? Every time you buy meat from him his hands get in the weigh.

While Town Sleeps, Police Face Dangers; They Deserve Praise

AN INCIDENT OCCURRED in Larkspur last week that illustrates a point we have always maintained — that the majority of people do not know about nor understand, all the functions of their city employees.

While the people sleep, their lives and property are protected by the police and firemen. Seldom do these employees receive any publicity for performing their jobs, and then occasionally it is adverse.

People see the city policeman directing traffic or arriving after an accident. Occasionally one hears a snide remark about the police "never being where they are needed."

LARKSPUR'S CHIEF of Police Howard Clark was not only where he was needed, but he risked his life in performing his duty.

It started when he received a call at 3:30 last Thursday morning. Someone had heard glass breaking in Cliff Archer's service station. Clark surprised the burglar and caught him in the act by carefully approaching the building.

When taken outside the building, the burglar fought off Clark who had cut his hand on broken glass going through the window. Clark let the burglar go when another man approached from across the street and the burglar said it was his brother who had come to help him.

Clark would have been justified in shooting the burglar in performing his duty as a policeman. In fact, the burglar told Clark to go ahead and shoot—he did not care. The burglar escaped because Clark was human enough to let him go rather than shoot him.

A fruitless search was made by Clark, another Corte Madera policeman, a sheriff's deputy, and the burglar's brother.

AFTER THE SEARCH was called off, another phone tip said that the burglar was down at the end of Boardwalk No. 1. Clark hid and waited in the chill night air for the burglar to come out of the swamp at daybreak. Then he arrested the burglar.

Clark found an open knife in the burglar's pocket when he searched him after the arrest. The chief asked what he intended doing with it.

"It was for you," the burglar told him. "I figured it was either you or me."

"Why didn't you use it then?" Clark asked.

"Well, I figured that it would be a murder rap against me. As it is, it is only a burglar rap."

Thus ended another night's patrol by the Larkspur chief. A cut hand and a burglary prevented at the risk of his life, is all he had to show for it.

WHICH BRINGS UP a point we have been pondering. In the last few years, several policemen have been shot in California while out on patrol alone. Small towns in Marin County cannot afford to keep two policemen out on night patrol.

Perhaps two towns could go together for double patrol duty. This would at least give the police that much more protection. After all, this area is a part of a large metropolitan system and subject to all criminal types that are in the large cities.

One lone policeman out on call is confronted not only by the average law abiding citizen, but also by the worst of criminal types. He deserves the extra protection of two police together. He also deserves a little praise occasionally for our being able to sleep at nights without being afraid.

Open Letter To Russ Ambassador Warns Of U.S. Force On Berlin

Ambassador
Mikhail A. Menshikov
Soviet Embassy
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Ambassador:

The American people are certainly interested to have you tell them what they will do over Berlin.

It is the traditional and prudent role of the diplomat to report his observations exclusively to his own government. But we know that Soviet ambassadors are not bound by the proprieties. It is not unexpected, therefore, that you should be telling the people of the United States what we think and how we are going to act.

The fact that you choose a public forum, speaking to a group of American citizens at an embassy reception, to spread your views shows that your purpose is to inform your own government. Why, then, do you assume to intervene in U. S. affairs? Why do you deem it proper to counsel the American people as to what they should think or not think, as to what they should do or not do, by saying that "when the chips are down, the American people won't fight for Berlin?"

IT IS ONLY fair to say to you, Mr. Menshikov, that you are not going to fool the American people as to what you are up to—and I hope that you do not fatefully confuse your superiors. There are only two reasons which could cause you to make such a presumptuous statement as you made in Washington last week.

Either you are so confident the U. S. will not defend Berlin that you were just unable to restrain yourself from making the claim.

Or you are so fearful the U. S. will defend Berlin against Mr. Khrushchev's plan to liquidate Western rights that you hope to influence American opinion against the position of their own government.

With all the earnestness at my command, I write to say to you, Mr. Ambassador, that you are totally and dangerously wrong, whichever be your purpose.

If you think that the people of the United States are prepared to see their government concede to the Kremlin the authority—or the power—to liquidate Western rights in Berlin, you are wrong.

If you think that the people of the United States will not back up the President, with force if necessary, to maintain the freedom of West Berlin from Communist rule, you are wrong.

If you are informing your Foreign Office that President Kennedy won't dare stand firm on Berlin on the ground that the American people prefer appeasement to the risk of war, you are doing your own government a perilous disservice by giving Moscow bad information. That is the stuff that wars are made of. Don't make that mistake. Your superiors won't thank you for it.

IF YOU KNOW—as, perhaps, you do—that American public opinion is not going to wilt in face of Mr. Khrushchev's threats to Berlin and will support Western rights there, do not make the imprudent mistake of thinking that yours is the voice which can change American public opinion into something more to your liking.

To offer you some counsel, you ought to know that if you keep on trying to weaken U.S. opinion in this matter, you're going to end by strengthening it.

Don't mislead the Soviet people and don't try to lead the American people.

Sincerely yours,
Roscoe Drummond.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

It's Crazy Kneeball Time Again; Petaluma To Host Crawling Sports

A few weeks ago we itemed that the annual Kneeball Bowl game, previously held in Marin, has been shifted to Petaluma and will be played on the evening of July 28.

Since then a few inquiries have come in asking what in the world is kneeball. Kneeball simply is football played on your knees. On a miniature field, of course, and with some variations in the rules.

The first and second annual Kneeball Bowls were played at College of Marin between two local teams. Petaluma caught the idea, organized its own team and challenged the Marin knees to a game at Petaluma's high school field next Friday.

We don't know who is playing for Petaluma, but the Marin club once again is headed by the Nave brothers of the Nave Lanes bowling family—Bill, Bob and Rich. They were in the two previous Marin games which, incidentally, ended in scoreless ties. They're old hands . . . er, old knees . . . at the game.

TO LIVEN up the Petaluma gate, promoters up that way have added some radio and TV personalities to the lineups. KSFO's Jim Lange and Al Collins, TV's Dick Stewart and Van Amberg have been mentioned as possible players.

For their team the Naves have kept most of their players from past years, including former Cal end Jim Baxter, Redwood High Director of Athletics Bob Troppmann and yours truly. We got our basic kneeball training every payday in the Marine Corps.

In fact, Kneeball resembles a crapshooters' convention.

Each team lines up with six players. First downs are 5 instead of 10 yards and penalties are 2 and 3 yards. It's illegal to leave your knees during a play, but there's an awful temptation to do so in going for a pass.

A ball carrier is considered "down" when his forward motion is stopped or when his shoulders touch the turf. You can imagine the wrestling that goes on.

There really isn't much chance for injury, although last year Bill Nave, by a freak accident, suffered a broken leg.

THE PETALUMA promoters, really plugging away in the publicity department, anticipate a crowd of 4,000. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for kids. Profits will be donated to Pop Warner football teams in Marin and Sonoma counties. Possible slogan: "Old and weak legs crawl so that young strong ones may run."

If you're curious enough to see this oddball game for yourself, the promoters say kickoff time is 9 o'clock next Friday night.

WITH ONLY nine days to go in the season the Mill Valley Colts were last place in the Marin Colt Baseball League.

But under the management of former N.Y. Yankee pitcher Charley Wensloff, and the strong pitching of Fred Mack of Tam High, the Colts rallied to capture the league title. How's that for a Silky Sullivan performance?

The durable Mack won three games in six days, with a 14-strikeout performance in one six-inning stretch. Dave Perlis won another tilt while fanning 16 and the final victory was hurled by John Walker.

The Colts finally wound up their whirlwind finish with an 8-4 record to edge out Southern Marin's 7-5 mark by one game.

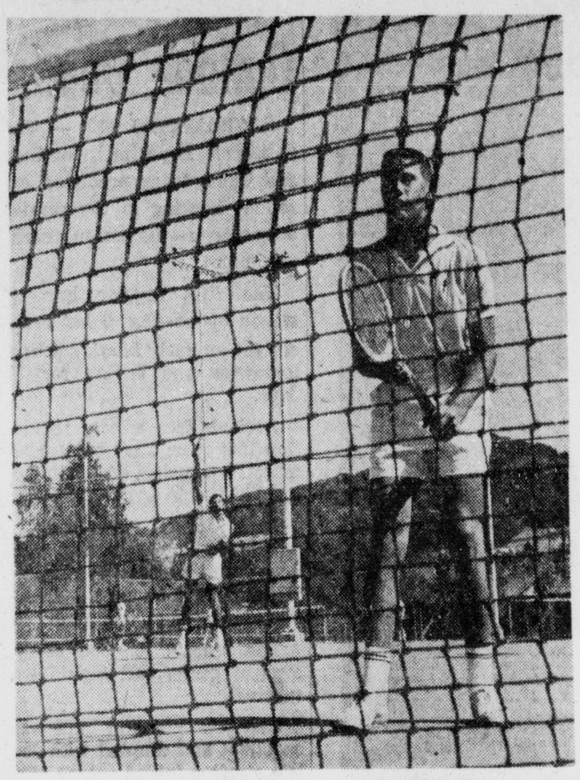

FORMER OLYMPIC swim champion Ann Curtis Cuneo of San Rafael is proud of the way some of her swim club's pupils fared last weekend in a meet at Livermore. She cited Jim Morris, Jerry Thompson, Bill Cuneo, Bob Crowl and Mike Cass for their ribbon-winning performances.

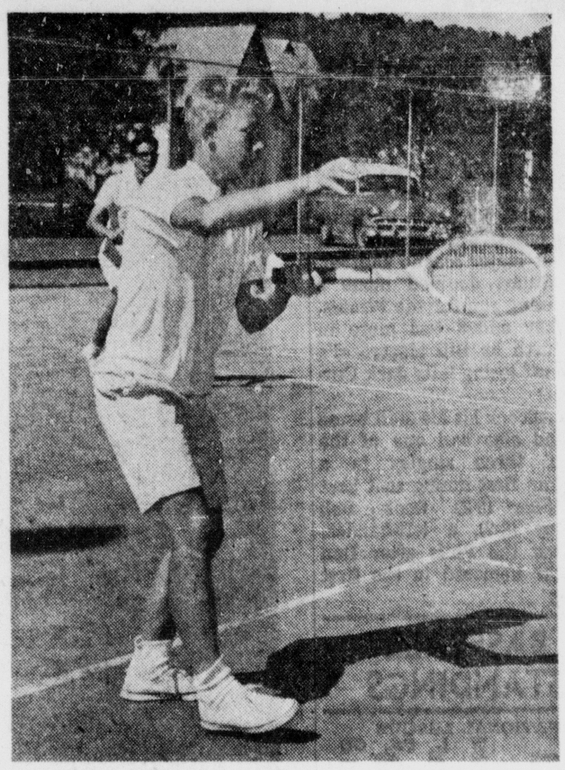

THE STATE semi-pro baseball championship playoff, originally scheduled in San Rafael between the winners of the first and second halves, has been transferred to Eureka, it was announced this week by S. L. "Brick" Swegle, commissioner in the state for the National Baseball Congress.

The move was made for financial reasons. The Humboldt Crabs of Eureka won the first half, so a Eureka playoff would be the logical site for "local" appeal.

Swegle said the gate receipts at Eureka, plus the $1,000 championship prize, would give the state champion enough funds to travel to Wichita, Kansas for the national tournament late in August.

The second half of the state tourney begins next Friday night in San Rafael, winner of which will go to Eureka for the showdown with the Crabs.

SPIRITED ACTION IN JUNIOR TOURNAMENT

Net frames picture of Hillard Witt of Larkspur (left) serving while his partner, Sam Mercer of Tiburon, awaits return during match yesterday in the Marin Junior Tennis Tournament at San Rafael. The Witt-Mercer tandem won easily over the Phelps-Partridge opposition. (Independent-Journal photos)

Jim Christiansen (foreground) of Sausalito returns volley in warmup for his and partner Bill Turner's doubles match. The warmup was unnecessary as they were awarded a default victory over a team that failed to show up. Grand finals in the tournament, co-sponsored by the Independent-Journal and the San Rafael Recreation Department, will be played tomorrow.

Sanford To Oppose Reds; Sweep Could Save S. F.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Al Dark hopes for a hot streak as he sends his San Francisco Giants into a big four-game series with slumping Cincinnati, but he thinks it would be foolish to expect the Reds to fold.

"I don't know why they aren't winning," Dark said last night after the Giants 10-6 victory over St. Louis. "But I'm sure it's only a temporary thing.

"They have beaten us seven out of nine games—they're a solid club."

Dark said the Giants simply played some of their worst ball against Cincinnati this season.

"We simply need a good hot streak to put us in the thick of things, but you can say the same thing about four or five other clubs," he said.

"Cincinnati had a hot streak and got way out in front. Right now Los Angeles is hot . . . now maybe it's our turn."

Dark and St. Louis manager Johnny Keane both pointed to the Dodger pitching staff as the best, but wouldn't predict a Dodger pennant.

"Cincy won't fold," Keane declared. "Remember, Pittsburgh slumped after the All-Star game break last year, then recovered strongly and won it.

"The Reds are having some pitching troubles, but it's only temporary."

Cincinnati has beaten the Redbirds 8 times in 12 meetings, and holds an 11-4 bulge over Milwaukee, Keane pointed out.

"They've beaten good clubs—you can't take that away from them," Johnny said. "But that L.A. pitching is the best."

The Cardinals have won 10 out of 15 since Keane replaced Solly Hemus July 6. The Redbird staff has shown signs of coming around.

"If Ernie Broglio and Lindy McDaniel return to form, we'll have a lot to say about who wins it and we could move up as high as third," said Keane.

But McDaniel was belted Thursday night for four runs in the eighth, capped by a tremendous two-run homer by Willie Mays. However, it was a two-out, two-strike double by veteran Harvey Kuenn which broke a 6-6 tie. The Cards had battled back from a 6-0 deficit.

"We needed this one badly," Dark said. "And we'll need 'em all at Cincinnati."

Dark planned to send Jack Sanford (4-5) to the hill tonight against the Redlegs' ace Ken Hunt. The last time the two met April 19, Hunt came away the winner 4-2.

Mays' homer was his 28th. He needs one more to tie his total season's output last year.

Dick LeMay, who relieved starting pitcher Sam Jones in the sixth, got the win. LeMay is 2-2.

Marin Upsets Richmond In Colt Tourney

John Feerick's double scored Jack Martin from second base with the winning run in the eighth inning last night as the Marin County All-Stars upset Richmond 4-3 in the opening of the Northern California District Colt Baseball Tournament at Ukiah.

Tonight the Marin Stars tackle Redding at 8:30 o'clock. Redding last night nudged Ukiah 6-5 in the double-elimination tournament, first of four leading to a Colt World Series in Texas next month.

After the regulation seven-inning game ended in a 3-3 deadlock, the Marinites engineered their decisive tally in the eighth when Martin was safe on an error. He then stole second and came racing in on Feerick's two-bagger.

John Walker, who came on in relief of starting pitcher Dave Perlis, blanked Richmond through the final three innings to gain credit for the victory. Perlis and Walker both played for the championship Mill Valley team in the regular Marin League season.

BATTING STARS

But players from the last place Twin Cities team shared the batting laurels for the Marin All-Stars last night. Terry Jarcik drove in Marin's first three runs with a double and single. Feerick also played for Twin Cities this season and he too had a single to go with his winning double.

Manager Fred Mack used all 15 of his All-Stars in producing the opening game victory. Rick Miller, another Mill Valleyan, came off the bench to deliver a pinch single during one Marin rally.

The winner of this tournament goes to Merced next Wednesday.

Colt baseball is for 15-16-year-olds.

Televised Sports Periled As U.S. Kills NFL-CBS Contract

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Sports officials were fearful today that a federal judge's ruling invalidating the National Football League's television contract could spread to college football and pro basketball.

And if this should happen, armchair quarterbacks and coaches will find slim pickings on their TV sets this year.

The NFL signed a $9,300,000 two-year contract with the Columbia Broadcasting System last April that granted the network exclusive rights to televise regular season games played by the league's 14 teams. Each team was to share equally in the TV income.

However, the pact was voided yesterday by United States District Court Judge Allan K. Grim in Philadelphia on the grounds that it violated anti-trust laws.

ELIMINATED COMPETITION

"By this agreement, the member (NFL) clubs . . . have eliminated competition among themselves in the sale of television rights to their games," Judge Krim's ruling said.

"Clearly, this restricts the individual clubs from determining from which areas the telecasts of their games may be made, since defendants (the NFL) have by their contract given to CBS the power to determine which games shall be telecast and where."

In previous years, several NFL clubs negotiated their own TV contracts with other networks.

Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the NFL, predicted that Judge Grim's decision "will have far reaching effects on televised sporting events."

Rozelle, who personally negotiated the "package deal" with CBS at the direction of the league owners, also pointed out that the NFL contract with the network "is the same type that has been employed by other sports leagues and heretofore gone unchallenged."

Rozelle obviously was referring to the American Football League, the National Basketball Assn. and the NCAA—all of which have exclusive TV deals with networks.

OFFICIALS WORRIED

Other college and professional sport officials declined to comment on Judge Grim's decision until they have had time to study it, but they were obviously worried about its possible ramifications.

Walter Byers, executive secretary of the NCAA, pointed out that "the activities of the . . . NFL and the college and universities of the NCAA are not comparable."

"The purposes and procedures of each are entirely different," Byers added. "In fact, ous plans for limiting television are not at all similar. Generally, it has been considered that the anti-trust statutes . . . apply to professional sports but not to our (NCAA) activities . . ."

The NCAA has had an exclusive contract with the American Broadcasting Company for the exclusive telecast of college football's "Game of the Week" for the past two years.

Shocked officials of the NFL, with the opening of the 1961 season less than two months away, already are consulting with their attorneys on their future course of action. Their only hope apparently is to obtain a stay of Judge Grim's order.

However, if the judge's ruling is sustained, pro football fans may have to watch their favorite teams "live" next season . . . or not at all.

Dark 'Can't Help Club As A Player'

CINCINNATI (UPI)—San Francisco Giant Manager Alvin Dark was laughing off reports today that he planned to become an active player again.

Dark said, "I have this injured finger on my right hand and it's so sore I can hardly comb my hair, so I don't see how I could help the club."

Dark injured the little finger of his right hand while angrily throwing a stool following a loss recently at Philadelphia. The Giants are one player under the limit of 25.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

LOS ANGELES—Wayne Thornton, 162, Los Angeles, knocked out Buck Bellamy, 160½, Phoenix, 2.

TOKYO — Teteuya Yamaguchi, 117¾, Japan, knocked out Koji Ishibashi, 117¾, Japan, 1.

WINNER PAYS $33.40

INGLEWOOD (AP) — Windy Sands $33.40 took the $21,900 Lakes and Flowers Handicap at Hollywood Park yesterday.

Tam Basketball Scores

Redwood and San Rafael remained undefeated in the Tamalpais Junior Varsity Basketball League last night by winning nip and tuck decisions. Redwood edged Marin Catholic 20-17 and S. R. nipped Terra Linda 20-19. The other game saw Tam shade Drake 25-23.

Pitchers Blamed For Redleg Tailspin; Dodgers Close In

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

What's wrong with Cincinnati?

Look to the pitching.

The Reds' staff—the biggest "if" in any hopes for their first National League pennant in 21 years—has given up more runs in five games than it had in two weeks. And Cincinnati's once rosy six-game bulge suddenly is a black-and-blue 1½-game edge.

Joey Jay, Bob Purkey, Ken Hunt and Jim O'Toole, the Reds' top starters, all have been beaten in the five-game slump—Cincinnati's longest losing string since last April, when the Reds plunged from top to bottom.

The second place Los Angeles Dodgers, after beating Purkey Wednesday night, went to work on Jay last night and hammered four home runs for a 10-1 romp and a sweep of the two-game series.

San Francisco clung to third place with a 10-6 victory at St. Louis, ending the Cards' winning string at five, while fourth place Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 4-0 behind the four-hit pitching of southpaw Joe Gibbon. Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia 5-1.

In the American League, Detroit crushed Baltimore 15-8 and regained first place by one percentage point over idle New York. Cleveland out-slugged Boston 12-11 in the only other A.L. game scheduled.

Duke Snider, Willie Davis, Wally Moon and Norm Larker, all left-handed swingers, did the thumping for the Dodgers against Jay (13-5). Singles by Maury Wills and Moon, who drove in three runs, and Snider's homer wrapped it up in a four-run third inning. Southpaw Sandy Koufax (12-6) was the winner.

Jerry Kindall had two of the Cubs' hits, both doubles, off Gibbon 8-4, who gave up three walks but struck out nine for his first major league shutout. Dick Stuart doubled home a first-inning run for the Pirates, and they added two more in the fourth on Bill Mazeroski's single off losing lefty Jack Curtis (6-4)

Joe Adcock hit his 20th home run and also had one of the Braves' three singles in a three-run first inning that beat Chris Short (3-2). Rookie Bob Hendley (3-2), a left-hander, shut out the Phils after Don Demeter homered in the first inning.

Cobb Remembered As A Hot Player, But Cold As Steel In Business

CONNOLLY

Now that "TIME OUT" has been called for Ty Cobb—baseball's most unrelenting character—it is most opportune to mention the fellow most responsible for bringing the "Georgia Peach" to California. And most of all seeing that he was properly settled as one of the state's very important citizens.

I have in mind the late George Alfie Putnam, one of the three "Valencia Street Bandits," (as Tom Laird referred to them), of Strub-Graham and Putnam, once proud owners of the S.F. Seals.

"Putty," a former Sacramento baseball writer, conceived the idea of a winter league headed by Cobb, George Sisler, Rogers Hornsby and Harry Heilmann. The winter loop never set the world on fire for attendance figures, but it fed the spark that eventually brought out the blaze for major league baseball.

Putnam nursed Ty as one of his own. He couldn't fish or hunt, but he engineered parties for Ty with great nimrods; Putty never golfed but he arranged golf matches with the best divot diggers in the town and at the best private clubs, and the best and most socially inclined families were on the Cobb-Putnam schedule.

AS ONE of the few oldtimers of that era in the early 1920's, along with Tom Laird of the News, Abe Kemp, once of the Bulletin, now of the Examiner, the late Harry B. Smith of the Chronicle and Al Joy and Jack James of the Examiner, we got to know Tyrus Raymond as a new found friend, hot and cold, depending on the mood.

I shall never forget Ty's advice to Putty and me one morning as we breakfasted at "The Golden Nugget."

"Beg, borrow or steal all the money you can get your hands on and buy Coca Cola stock," Cobb said.

Strub-Graham and Putnam did that very thing and after a few years they each split one-third of a million dollars.

I shall always think it was the sale of the Coca Cola stock that brought about the evacuation of Recreation Park at 15th and Valencia streets and established Seals Stadium at 16th and Bryant streets.

CHARLEY GRAHAM wasn't for leaving 15th and Valencia.

"I shook the dice once and was lucky," he told Putnam and Strub. "I'm not going for a headache."

Well, the persuasion of Strub and the energetic Putnam convinced "Uncle Charley" and he plunged into the new venture to prove his original hunch was right. Strub left the trio for horse racing; Putty died earlier than even the statistics on insurance rates provided, and left Charley alone.

As much as Strub-Graham-Putnam did for Ty Cobb, he never once wanted into organized baseball as an owner. I think, had Putnam lived, he might have done it.

One morning in the city room of the old Call I got a call from the city editor.

"WHAT'S THIS about Cobb appearing in the small claims court today on a refusal to pay a vacating cleaning bill?" he asked. I called Putnam and Putty raced to the court, paid off and then met Ty at the City Hall steps.

"It was my mistake," Putty greeted Cobb.

"No it wasn't," Cobb replied, "I'd never have paid that bill. I was robbed."

That is a typical example of Cobb's stubbornness.

Ty was as hot as a .45 in baseball togs. And off the field and in business deals he was cold as steel.

Cox Leads Scorers In Drake Cage League

Former Drake High School star Ron Cox scored 32 points last night to lead his Cox Co. teammates to a 78-57 romp over Roark's quintet in the Drake Summer Basketball League.

Cox now has 50 points in two games to lead the league in scoring. Larry Fulton had 19 points last night for Roark's.

In other games Las Gallinas, paced by Dave Neumann's 21 points, downed Billings-Hutchison 61-50 and A & E Garage trimmed Pinky's 44-36.

DAVENPORT OUT AT THE PLATE

Jimmy Davenport of Giants starts his slide, but too late as St. Louis pitcher Bob Miller, covering plate, waits with ball to make the tag in last night's game. Davenport was caught trying to score, but Jose Pagan missed the squeeze bunt attempt. Giants won 10-6. (AP Wirephoto)

Marin Swim Club Enters Big Meet

Aiming toward the annual Seven County League Swimming Championships at Santa Rosa this weekend, Marin Pirates Swim Club knocked over the San Ramon Swim Team 288 to 224 at Drake High pool Wednesday night.

Hoping for the return of a number of youngsters from the sick list, Coach Beth Kaufman leads her charges into competition with eight other teams at Santa Rosa who make up the Seven County league; Santa Rosa, Modesto, Arden Hills and Del Norte (Sacramento), Pleasant Hill, Livermore, Benicia and San Ramon. The Pirates were third in the championships last year and have won four out of seven league dual meets so far this year.

Marin swimmers who won firsts against San Ramon Wednesday were: Robin Yeager, Chris Cozzi, Bart Yeager, Lynne Keeler, George Girvin, Bill Anderson, Gerry Keeler, Candy Beeler, Tim Frost, John Osborne, Kirsten Beeler, Roberta Shistar.

OWENS NIXES 49ER CONTRACT; 'NOT ENOUGH'

Forty-niner end R. C. Owens was "sticking to my guns—no matter what" today in his contract dispute with the San Francisco pro foootball club.

Owens and three tackles—John Thomas, Henry Schmidt and Len Rhode — still have not signed contracts for the 1961 season.

"I've stated a figure and the Forty-Niners have given me one that is quite a bit apart," Owens said during a special camera day program.

But business manager Lou Spadia replied that Owens' "contract is very fair and reasonable, we feel. It's based on how the coaches graded him off last year's performance.

Contractors Move In On Hub Loop Leaders

A 12-4 victory yesterday over Iacopi Meat Co. moved Currie Construction within a game of first place Herb's Sports Shop in the San Anselmo Senior League.

Pitcher Laddie Richardson knocked home runs in both of his first two at-bats to account for four of the Currie scores.

Archers Open Deer Season; Outlook Good

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Department of Fish and Game today predicted excellent hunting in the coastal deer season—the nation's earliest hunt.

The first regular hunting season opens Aug. 5 but archers get an early break starting tomorrow and lasting for 10 days.

Archers face a new regulation this year: That bows used must be capable of hurling a legal big game arrow 130 yards.

Area reports from the agency's game managers and wardens summarized to this: "Hunting will be good and perhaps better than last year."

The reason: A good carryover of bucks and high fawn survival.

Last year's coastal hunt was excellent and coupled with the late starting inland season harvested 75,584 deer — only 18 short of the 75,602 record set in 1954.

EASIER TARGETS

Another key reason for the good hunting prospects was the shortage of water. Game management spokesmen said this would concentrate the deer near water sources and make them easier targets for hunters.

Despite the shortage of water, deer were reported in good condition.

But another factor was called to the attention of hunters. Game managers said there was extreme fire danger along the coastal hunt area and heavy grass grown from spring rains was dry.

As an example of the problems facing coastal hunters, here's a brief report from a game manager in the San Joaquin County area: "High fire hazard; 100 per cent of private land tightly padlocked.

This trend was reflected throughout the agency's report on hunting prospects. Much of the coastal region is privately owned and the owners are locking their gates due to the fire hazard.

YANKEE MASTER

Ford Seeks 18th Victory Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southpaw Whitey Ford shoots for his 18th victory and 12th in a row tonight when the New York Yankees, a percentage point behind Detroit in the American League race, open a three-game series at Boston. The Tigers start a four-game set at Kansas City.

Ford (17-2) would be the first left-hander to win 12 straight in the American League since Lefty Grove won 16 in a row for the Philadelphia A's in 1931. No pitcher has won 12 in succession in the A.L. since Ellis Kinder, a right-hander, took 13 in a row while piling up a 23-6 record for Boston in 1949.

Ford, who hasn't lost since May 29, when he dropped a 2-1 decision at Boston, will be working with three days rest again after beating Baltimore 5-0 with a six-hitter Monday night. He had been on an every-fourth-day schedule.

With Bill Stafford, Bob Turley and Ralph Terry nursing ailments, Ford is back on the old schedule again.

The Yanks' double-header loss at Washington Wednesday cut their hold on first place to just three percentage points, and Detroit wiped that out by thumping Baltimore 15-8 while New York was idle yesterday. Cleveland out-slugged Boston 12-11 last night in the only other AL game scheduled.

The Tigers twice came from behind against the Orioles before ripping a 6-6 tie with eight runs in the seventh. Rocky Colavito drove in five runs with a pair of homers, the second a three-run shot in the big seventh. Jim Gentile hit two home runs for the Birds. Hal Woodeshick (4-3) was the winner in relief and Steve Barber (10-8) the loser.

Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles, thinking reliever Hank Aguirre shaved Ron Hansen too close with a pitch in the ninth inning, charged the Tiger southpaw on the mound. Players from both clubs intervened, however, and held it to a verbal brawl. The incident followed home runs off Aguirre by Gentile and Hank Foiles.

Jim Piersall and Tito Francona drove in seven runs between them for the Indians and paired for consecutive home runs in a four-run seventh inning that beat the Red Sox, Boston, down 3-2 after five innings, had taken the lead with five runs in the top of the seventh. Bobby Locke (3-0) won it and Billy Muffett (2-10) lost it, both in relief.

Attendance Dips In Minor Leagues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attendance at minor league baseball games is running about even with last year's, despite a reduction of five cities and the loss of Minneapolis-St. Paul to the American League.

In a mid-season survey of all games played through the fourth of July, 69 clubs report attendance dipped this year to 5,328,754 from 5,352,755 in 1960.

ROSS LITTLE LEAGUE CHAMPS FOR 1961

Two North Shrine Halfbacks Injured

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two of the North's star halfbacks have suffered training injuries while drilling for next Wednesday's Shrine interscholastic all-star football game in the Coliseum.

Jim Blakeney of Hanford was held out of yesterday's drills because of a twisted ankle. North Coaches Hart Fairclough of Mt. Diablo, Concord and Joe Marvin of Sequoia, Redwood City, said they aren't sure when Blakeney will be able to practice again, but they are hopeful he can start against the South.

Kent Nance of Madera, northern California "Back of the Year" in 1960, sustained a cut over his left eye in Wednesday night's workout. But Nance worked out last night.

Weather Hot, So Is Trolling For Bass In Upper San Pablo Bay

STEVENS

Fishing — in certain sectors — has been about the same temperature as the weather this week.

Trolling in the upper San Pablo Bay has been from very good to excellent for the lads and lassies who boarded ships with their gear at five in the p.m. Checking with Nadine Lessley of Dowrelios, I verified some of the exuberant reports coming in. "It's true, Steve," she assured me. "Been that way for the past ten days. Just last night, most of the boats unloaded limits."

"What size fish and what is catching 'em?" I asked.

"Most of the fish are of good size. So far this week, K. W. Shipman is top rod with his 26¾-pound striper, caught aboard the Jackpot with Rudy Bito at the helm."

I gathered from Nadine's report that the trollers have been using sinkers up to 12 pounds and down to no sinker at all, a wide variety of lures from Pflueger Chums to pet spoons and Bugeyes. The stage of the tides seems to make no difference, but the trolling is best by far during the tag end of the day.

A VERY interesting item is the sudden upswing in bait fishing. Skipper Arni Savage and the boat, Dowrelio No. 5 has been doing very well fishing above the Carquinez Bridge. On Monday he accounted for near limits for his 11 passengers and on Tuesday, with the same number of passengers, he netted 17 bass that ranged from four to eight pounds. Best results in the afternoons. (The Dowrelio No. 5 is a half-day boat).

There must be a sizable school of bass in that general area. Several skippers reported hundreds of anchovies leaping out of the water to avoid the bass from beneath them.

I EXTEND my deepest sympathy to Dr. Efferson who hooked a legal sized sturgeon and strung it alogside the boat. When he looked over the side to admire his catch it was not there. Too bad!

APPARENTLY A few halbut have become lost in the bay waters. Three skippers out of Crockett reported in with halibut, one of which went over 10 pounds.

JOE NERVIANI of Santa Venetia (Joe's Launching) reported the Lauchenauers, Mickey and Eleanor, trolling for four bass to six pounds Monday and five bass to 10 pounds on Tuesday. Joe also mentioned bait dealer, Don Zunino repeating his usual performance of limiting at the Sisters.

ROY ERWIN of Western Sports Shop in San Rafael, reported some fast trolling near the rocks at the Brothers—fish to 17 pounds this week.

FISHING SLOWED in the Alameda Estuary — became spotty.

Joe Navarro of Sportsmen's Center, Castro Valley, told of Walt Young and wife scouting the lower Suisun Bay and seeing a fair number of bass taken near the ships. Frank Sequera and friend limited with catfish from the Grant Line Canal area; Navarro told me of bass on bait in the McAvoy sector, but small fish.

Navarro also did a bit of mild raving over the sumptious feast of barbecued elk meat he, his wife, and eight other couples, enjoyed at Roy Abbott's place. The meat was furnished by Ronald Pilkington.

Congratulations to Dan Johnson of Hayward for the 31-pound salmon hooked while letting line out aboard one of Stagnaro's deep sea fishing boats. Dan is planning commissioner, I am told. Bet he didn't plan to catch a salmon 100 feet beneath the surface.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for 17-year-old John Gates of 33 Corte Toluca, Greenbrae. Fishing off San Quentin Point at 8 o'clock last night the Redwood High School senior reeled in a 36-inch, 19½-pound striper. He was using sardines for bait.

Li'l League All-Star Tourney Opens Monday

District Director Bob Lollick of San Rafael today announced dates and locations for two post-season Little League baseball tournaments involving Marin County teams.

The All-Star Tournament, first leg toward the Little League World Series in Pennsylvania, opens Monday while the Marin County Leagues' Champion Tournament gets under way July 31, Lollick said.

Monday's All-Star Tournament openers will be Novato vs. San Rafael National League at San Quentin, Gallinas Valley vs. Fairfax-Sleepy Hollow at Fairfax, Hamilton-Loma Verde vs. Marinwood at Hamilton Air Force Base, Twin Cities vs. Mill Valley American League at Twin Cities (Corte Madera), Strawberry vs. Tiburon Peninsula at Tiburon, Golden Gate vs. Mill Valley National at the San Francisco Presidio. San Rafael American and Sausalito teams draw first round byes.

Quarter-final games for the district will be played Tuesday at Novato, Hamilton, Sausalito and Mill Valley. Semi-finals are scheduled Thursday at Novato and the Presidio while the finals are scheduled at Twin Cities Saturday.

6 P.M. GAMES

The Monday, Tuesday and Thursday games all are scheduled for 6 p.m. Saturday's finals will be a double-header at Twin Cities. At 1 p.m. the battle for third place will be waged while at 3 p.m. the championship game is the big attraction.

Winner of the District All-Star advances to another tournament at Sonoma Aug. 3-5. From there winners go to a northern California playoff and, eventually, unbeaten teams wind up in the Little World Series.

Last year the Twin Cities All-Stars placed second in northern California.

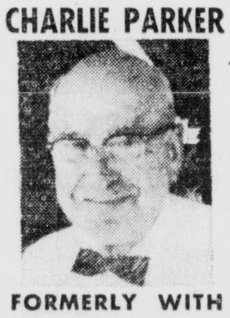

11 CHAMPIONS

The Marin tournament among champions of 11 leagues goes July 31, Aug. 1, 3 and 5.

Opening games July 31 are San Anselmo vs. Golden Gate at the Presidio, Tiburon Peninsula vs. San Rafael American, Twin Cities vs. Sausalito at Sausalito, all at 6 p.m. Drawing byes in the first round are champions of the Fairfax-Sleepy Hollow, Hamilton-Loma Verde, Gallinas Valley, Marinwood and Novato leagues.

Second round games will be played Aug. 1 at San Anselmo, Hamilton AFB, Gallinas Valley and Novato. Semi-finals Aug. 3 are slated at Fairfax and Twin Cities and the finals Aug. 5 at Hamilton.

Midnight Deadline For Brown

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown was working today to beat the midnight deadline for signing bills passed by the 1961 legislature.

Any bills left unsigned by tonight will have been pocket vetoed.

Among those that Brown said he would not sign was a measure to increase the membership of county political party central committees.

The governor said that he had signed into law 13 social insurance measures.

The major bill raises disability insurance benefits from a maximum of $65 a week to a top of $70 a week. Others tighten employer obligations regarding the filing and payment of unemployment and disability insurance.

Other bills among the multitude signed last night and today are:

Provides journeyman workers with an opportunity to retrain for new jobs if their present jobs may become obsolete due to automation.

Protects consumer from being victimized by lifetime contracts for lessons and services at dance and health studios.

Authorizes the "James J. McBride Act" aimed at improving the program of pilot child care centers for mentally and physically handicapped children.

Redefines "obscene" and otherwise strengthens the penal code regarding obscenity.

Provides $100,000 for traffic safety research.

Eliminates citizenship as a requirement for state aid to the aged and needy disabled.

Authorizes state college student bodies to finance and build student unions and activity centers.

Gives voters the right to approve local ordinances establishing parking meter zones and parking fees.

Routine Break

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Attendants in the emergency room at Mansfield General Hospital got a little break from the routine recently. Included in the day's cases were a mouse bite and a rabbit bite.

BROWN SIGNS RAPID TRANSIT VOTE MEASURE

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today announced signing of a bill by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) extending the time limit on voter approval of a Bay Area Rapid Transit District bond issue.

The measure (SB 575) extends to Nov. 30, 1963, the deadline to get voter approval of a $1,078,000,000 bond issue to build the system without loss of authorization to spend 130 million dollars in bay bridge revenues for a trans-bay subway tube which is proposed as part of the system.

Fourth Rabies Shots Clinic Set Monday

Fourth, and next to last, in the Marin County Health Department's current series of public clinics for vaccination of dogs against rabies is scheduled for Monday in Mill Valley. The clinic will be held from 2 to 4 in the afternoon at the Alto School, 70 Lomita Drive.

Owners will be charged two dollars per dog to cover the cost of giving the protective shots. Dogs must be held on leach and must be brought by an adult.

A total of 676 dogs received the anti-rabies shots in three public clinics held thus far during July by the health department in cooperation with veterinarians of Marin County.

The fifth and last clinic in the series is scheduled for July 31 at the County Fire Department in Woodacre.

Pet owners are reminded by Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, county health office, that vaccination against rabies is required by law for all dogs in Marin County over 4 months of age. Dogs must be vaccinated every two years if they have received the chick-embryo type of vaccine, and annually if they have been vaccinated with nerve tissue vaccine.

Tract Homes Foreclosures Probe Pending

NAPA (AP) — Foreclosures against 500 tract homes in Napa, Solano and Contra Costa counties have been called off pending a full investigation by the state Board of Investments.

This was announced in Los Angeles yesterday by Commissioner Preston Silbaugh of the State Division of Savings and Loan.

The decision was reached during a meeting between Silbaugh, Napa County Asst Dist. Atty. Wade Shifflet and officers of Berkeley Savings and Loan and Mutual Savings and Loan.

The loan companies had started foreclosure procedures to protect investors after payments on mortgages stopped coming in, even though homeowners were making regular monthly payments.

Silbaugh said the loan companies agreed to cooperate fully with the state in determining what happened to the money.

"If there has been misapplication of funds, the district attorney of Napa County is equipped to press criminal charges," said Silbaugh.

Mental Aid Ruled Out For Owner In Dog Attack Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two court psychiatrists have ruled that Robert Tait, whose dogs mauled a boy in Golden Gate Park, is not in need of treatment as a sexual psychopath.

The inquiry was ordered when it was learned that Tait failed to register as a sex deviate. He was arrested after his Boxer dogs attacked an 11-year-old boy.

Tait returned to court today for sentencing on misdemeanor charges far failing to leash his dogs and allowing them to run loose in a public park.

Tait, a former Marin County resident, was arrested in Mill Valley in 1959 on a similar charge.

Luncheon In Garden At Fairfax

ST. RITA'S Women's Guild gathered members and guests for a salad luncheon served under the trees at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax yesterday. Here the Rev. Jeremiah Gleeson rises to speak to the group. From left are Mesdames B. L. Ercolini, T. V. Artz and Nora McPartland in the back row. Seated across the table, from left, are Mesdames D. R. Mercer, Will T. Gordon, Leo Vaughan and Eugene Morrison. The luncheon was the Guild's summer activity.

DESSERT IS served by Mrs. Charles Kyne, waitress chairman, to the waiting guests. Mrs. Richard deGraf was chairman of the luncheon, assisted by Mrs. Robert Neiland. The Guild members made a variety of salads which were served buffet style. Mrs. A. J. McDevitt was in charge of kitchen arrangements, working with Mrs. Kyne. (Independent-Journal photos)

Volunteer Sets New Record

When Mrs. Harry Winter of Kentfield became a member of the Marin General Hospital Service League she began the volunteer work with a bang. She not only earned her 24 hour service emblem as a Pink Lady in June but went on to serve 300 hours at the hospital in a month's time.

Mrs. Winter is the first volunteer at Marin General to chalk up that amount of service in a single month.

Those who have served over a thousand hours now are Mesdames Judson Goodrich of San Rafael, Alfred Ruggiero of Greenbrae, and those who have served over 1,400 houds are Mesdames Samuel Gunnison of San Anselmo, Marshall Keyes of San Rafael and J. P. Redington of Greenbrae.

Mrs. Walter K. Pearce of San Rafael leads the volunteers with 3,500 hours, while Mesdames William Miles of Ross reached 3,400, Thomas Pring of San Anselmo reached 2,600 and Kenneth Maxwell of San Anselmo has served 2,400 hours.

Others reaching totals for awards in July are Mesdames Don Balensiefer of San Rafael, 700 hours; James Dorais of Greenbrae, 500 hours; Miss Bernadine Connair of Larkspur, 400 hours; and Mrs. Mervyn Dowd, Mrs. James B. Skinner and Miss Susan Weiss of Kentfield, Mrs. Peter Pell of Mill Valley and Miss Mary Schneider of San Rafael, 300 hours.

One hundred hour stripes were given to Mrs. Carl Weber of San Rafael and Misses Mary Castelli of San Anselmo and Miss Lynn Courter of Fairfax.

Given 24 hour emblems were Mesdames A. A. Hammons, Weller Pierce and Mervin B. Shenson of San Rafael; Gerald J. Ehler of Kentfield, James Moncheck of Corte Madera and Miss Patricia Suacci of Greenbrae.

Book Review Will Be Feature Of Second Northgate Luncheon

Something different will be featured at the second luncheon of the Northgate Group summer series at the Marin Art and Garden Wednesday when the Humane Society Auxiliary sponsors a book review by Lewis Lengfeld of San Francisco.

Mr. Lengfeld, who is known for his humorous and informative readings, will entertain guests who will be served luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the tree-shaded outdoor dining area of the Center.

Mrs. Carl Riznik, newly elected president of the Humane Society Auxiliary, is chairman of the luncheon, and has appointed Mrs. Harold A. Tomrose decorations chairman, assisted by Mesdames E. S. Bodine, Gustave Burgren and Gertrude Adams.

Waitresses for the day include Auxiliary members Mesdames Cole Jackman, Edward Vanderhoff, A. A. Colvin, Evelyn Levy, S. S. Herspring, J. B. Rice, Pierre Triou, Eugene Wilson, Arne Kionig, Jack Batiaff, George Rivers, Richard Winton, P. W. Pollock, W. S. Briscoe, Robert W. Miller, Cecil Pettijohn, Lloyd Tyler, Kenneth Ball and Miss Virginia Hinshaw.

Reservations for the book-review luncheon on July 26 to benefit the Northgate group, may be made with the Art and Garden Center.

Brother, Sister To Work For U.S. Government

Bob and Carol Conger, son and daughter of the Oliver Congers of Mill Valley, will both be working for the United States government now that they have graduated from college.

After passing a Foreign Service examination given by the U. S. state department—only 350 of the 6,000 graduates taking the exam passed it—Bob was accepted by the state department with a fellowship under the graduate fellows of the master of Foreign Service program.

He was graduated last month from Georgetown University, where he majored in political science and minored in history.

Carol, who was graduated last month from Stanford University after attending Mills College for her first two years, will be with the U. S. Naval Reserve.

GOLDEN GATE CLUBS SET PICNIC DATE

Mrs. S. C. Stapp, junior past president of the Sausalito Woman's Club, is taking reservations for "Fun In The Sun." An outing, planned during the recent convention of the Golden Gate District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, in Marin, the date has been set for Aug. 8.

All members of Marin Women's Clubs under the Golden Gate District will be welcomed. Picnickers will board the "Blue Spirit" in Sausalito at 10:30 a.m. with the destination Angel Island. The dock is located to the left of the Spinnaker restaurant on the Sausalito sandspit.

Reservations, which close Aug. 5, will include a box lunch of barbecued chicken and accompanying picnic fare.

Former Resident Weds In Carmel

To reside in Palm Springs following their recent wedding in the Little Chapel of the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel are Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Reicherts.

The bride is the former Mrs. Virginia L. Kidder of Corte Madera.

Officiating for the ceremony was Rev. Victor W. David.

For her wedding, the bride chose a brown linen suit with matching accessories.

Maid of honor for her mother was Caroline Kidder of Beverly Hills. James R. Kidder of Sacramento, the bride's son, was best man.

The newlyweds are now on a wedding trip to Southampton, New York and the Canadian Rockies.

Carol Lee Hohlen Married At St. Rita's Church Rite

St. Rita's Catholic Church in Fairfax was the setting for the recent wedding of Carol Lee Hohlen and George Verdelli Oliva III of San Anselmo.

The Rev. Jeremiah Gleeson officiated for the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl August Hohlen are the parents of the bride.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk peau de soie with a chapel train.

Preceding the bride to the altar in gowns of periwinkle blue organza were Mrs. Ronald E. Robb of Fairfax as matron of honor, and Mesdames Samuel Ayers of San Francisco and William Wright of Novato, bridesmaids. Karen Coster, the bride's cousin, of San Francisco, was flower girl and Master Kenneth Coster acted as ringbearer.

William Finn of Fairfax was best man. Ushers included Robert Pecoto of Corte Madera and Michael L. Werlund of San Anselmo.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

The bride, who is a teacher in Petaluma, was graduated from Lincoln High School in San Francisco, College of Marin and San Francisco State College.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. George Verdelli Oliva Jr. of San Anselmo, was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and College of Marin. He is attending the University of San Francisco and is employed at the Physicians Optical Co. in San Rafael. He is the brother of David, Stephen, Cathy, Brian, Nancy and Ann Oliva of San Anselmo and Mrs. Joseph Mariani of San Rafael.

Following a wedding trip to Canada, the couple will make their home in Greenbrae.

Roma Costumes

Silvano of Roma styles many at-home hostess costumes that are as dramatic as a stage design. The designer's formal coat worn with a one-piece jump suit, all in bright gold cotton satin printed with huge butterflies is outstanding. Another attractive one is a green cotton coat, lined with white eyelet and worn over a green jump suit.

Good Scout

NEW YORK (UPI)—"See you in church" is a saying that comes true if it's uttered by a Girl Scout.

Every Girl Scout is pledged to do her duty to God and is encouraged to attend the church of her choice regularly. In addition, says the National News Bureau of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., many Girl Scouts perform services for their church, such as painting the Sunday school furniture, handing out programs, arranging flowers.

Diana Bruce Wed In Washington, D.C.

Of interest in Marin is the July 1 marriage of former Independent-Journal staff reporter Diana Abbey Bruce and Otho Evans Eskin of Washington, D.C.

St. John's Episcopal Church in Washington was the setting for the 5 o'clock double ring ceremony, with the Rev. Alfred R. Shands III officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Bruce of Berkeley. Given in marriage by her father, she wore a gown of blush pink taffeta accented with Alencon lace.

Preceding the bride to the altar were her two sisters, Mrs. Jon Applequist of New York City as matron of honor in a tunic dress of emerald green silk shantung, and Betty Bruce, in pale green chiffon over taffeta.

William Beeson III of Wayne, Pa., was best man for the bridegroom.

Ushers were Robert E. Service of Washington and Lucas Townsend of Englewood, N.J.

A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony at the parish house.

The bride was graduated from the University of California and received her M.A. from Cal in June. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. She worked as a copy girl on the Washington Post and was a general news reporter with the Independent-Journal.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Cornelia Evans Goodhue of Washington, and Sam Eskin of Woodstock, N.Y., was graduated from Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Me., and the George Washington University Law School. His fraternity is Zeta Phi.

The newlyweds will reside in Washington, where the bridegroom is assigned with the Department of State as a Foreign Service Officer.

MAKING THE MOST of their short stay in Britain, Deena Aaron and her sister Susan, right, of San Rafael, are seeing some of the many places of interest in and around London. They are seen here at the beautiful red-brick Hampton Court Palace, built by Cardinal Wolsey in 1514, and taken from him by Henry VIII. (British Travel Assn. photo)

MARIN'S TRIBUTE TO GLAMOUR

Designer Antoinette of San Rafael goes glamourous for fall in her collection of evening clothes. Mrs. Herbert Meadows of Novato, left, models this wool metallic evening dress featuring the Egyptian influence. At right, Mrs. Arnold Ach of Novato, shows a silk jackaert gown, a variation of Marie Louise of France in the 16th Century.

Shepherd-Harper Rite Held In Long Beach

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Shepherd are at home in Berkeley following their wedding in Long Beach and a wedding trip to San Francisco.

For the wedding at Los Altos Congregational Church in Long Beach the bride, the former Sandra Lee Harper, wore a white silk organza gown. The daughter of Cmdr. and Mrs. Lee Harper of Long Beach, she was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Gary Mitchell of Long Beach was matron of honor and Carol Smart of Long Beach and Mrs. William Bevilockway Jr. of Belmont were bridesmaids. They wore pink sheath dresses.

Donald Shepherd of Berkeley was best man for his brother, and the other brothers, James and John Shepherd of San Anselmo, were ushers.

After a reception the couple left for San Francisco.

The bride attended Oregon State College. Her husband, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Shepherd of San Anselmo, is a Sir Francis Drake High School graduate and is a senior at the University of California, where he is a biochemist also. Mrs. Lillian Eiholm of Oakland is his grandmother.

BERKELEY IS the home of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Shepherd, who were married in Long Beach. The bride is the former Sandra Lee Harper.

Schoolchild Now Too Plump For Physical Fitness Test

BERKELEY (UPI)—The average California schoolchild has become so plump in recent years that the state can no longer measure his physical fitness by traditional standards.

Starting in September, the State Department of Education will ask public school instructors to administer fitness tests and then compare students' performance solely on the basis of age.

The traditional system, develop in 1918, used generally the same tests, but classified results according to age, weight and height. It did so because statewide test results collected before 1918 and in the early 1930's showed that children became stronger as they added height and weight. Thus, a tall, heavy boy of 14 would not be rated with his average size classmates.

But recent test averages show that added weight fails to affect performance or actually makes performance worse.

"We can only conclude that the average child is adding useless fat," said Dr. Anna Espenschade, chairman of the measurement committee for the California Fitness Project and teacher of physical education at the University of California.

She said that height still makes a difference in performance, but not enough to warrant using it comparing test results.

Just how much taller and heavier are today's students? Dr. Espenschade said that there were no statewide figures, but that one study in one school gave these results for 13-year-olds:

Boys gained two inches in height and 10 pounds of weight between 1934 and 1959; girls averaged one inch taller and six pounds heavier.

State education officials organized the fitness project four years ago to revamp standards and improve physical education. They knew then that obesity was a problem, but they did not know that it would require abandoning the old measurement system.

Despite their extra pounds, California children still turn in better scores than other students in the United States, according to a recent project report. And they often do better than children in Great Britain.

Edwin Tillsons Celebrate 25th Anniversary Here

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Tillson of San Rafael celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday at a reception on the patio of their home. About 50 friends attended the celebration.

Among the guests were Mrs. Tillson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Beeman of San Rafael, who celebrated their golden wedding in May.

The Tillsons have been long time Marin County residents.

AAUW Group Plans Event At Hamilton

Mrs. Fred Stribling, chairman of the Marin Branch American Association of University Women's Dance Group, has planned dinner and dancing this evening at Hamilton Air Force Base for eight couples who have completed the second dance session.

Col. and Mrs. Stribling will greet Miss Bernice Robello and Messrs. and Mesdames William Ecker, William Damerow, Charles Conzis, Norman Johnson, Robert Milmoe and Raymond Miller.

San Anselmo Realtor Weds Warren Benson

San Anselmo realtor Louise V. Walsh became the bride of Warren F. Benson of Lakeport in a ceremony on July 17 at the Park Wedding Chapel in Reno. Rev. Warren D. Ward was the officiating minister. The bride has been in the real estate business in San Anselmo for 15 years.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Check Your Conversation For Politeness, Interest, Length

They tell us today that good conversation is a lost art. When the air is filled with busy chatter it does not mean that good conversation and plenty of it is under way. Listening closely a moment often proves that those who talk the most are the poorest conversationalists.

Many a chatterbox speeds on, moving faster and faster as it becomes evident he has nothing to say. Often the nervous desire to make a good impression lies behind this common fault. It would be better to have a general and current topic of interest ready for occasions when you meet someone for the first time or someone you barely know.

It needn't be the traditional "weather" topic, but something you learned from books, radio, newspaper or television that is generally interesting and that your new acquaintance may know about also. Beware of becoming a conversational bore yourself. The bore usually is the one who talks constantly about himself, and two bores in conversation can try the soul of an angel.

Next party you go to try listening intently, not expressing your own opinions, but rather asking an occasional question. Don't fidget and glance about while you listen, even if you actually are bored. Giving the speaker undivided attention may pay off when he stops awhile and listens to you.

Beware of being the person who listens only so he will know when the talk stops so he can begin. Also beware of being the "constant interrupter" often an unconscious and extremely rude habit.

Beware too of delivering long accounts of what baby did yesterday or what your family ate last week or other matters of interest only to you. Ask yourself instead, what can I offer this person as a topic or fact that will catch his interest? When you answer this truthfully you find it does not include a recital of your problems at home, at work, a diatribe against another, slang, a story in bad taste, or gossip which may serve to brand its teller much more surely than its subject. Neither does the person with you wish to be depressed by a gruesome recital of the woes of the world. Instead a more factual discussion could be a point in your favor as long as you do not turn it into a sermon.

Another important point to watch is the tone and loudness of your voice. Many a beautiful woman spoils her appearance as soon as she allows a shrill, metallic voice to pour forth, ending in a whinnying laugh. A quiet tone accomplishes much more. Also the man who booms out pompously becomes stuffed shirt or know-it-all to others. Check yourself.

MISS EKLUND IS ENGAGED

At a recent family gathering Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ralston Eklund of San Rafael announced the engagement of their only daughter, Janet Eklund, to Gordon Biederman. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Biederman of Novato. The gathering was held at the recreation center on the Santa Rosa ranch of the bride-elect's uncle, George Mattei.

Janet, a San Rafael High School graduate, is with Zurich Insurance Co. in San Francisco. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Eklund of San Rafael and Mrs. Emory Mattei of Santa Rosa.

Her fiance, a graduate of Richmond High School, is employed by Western California Telephone Co. in Novato. No date has been set for the wedding.

Franklin Furtados Return From Europe

Returning to Lucas Valley Sunday following a year's stay in Europe were the Franklin Furtados and daughters, Mary and Anna.

The Furtados left Marin last August for Karlsruhe, Germany, where Mr. Furtado taught under the American High School program abroad. He is a teacher in the San Francisco schools.

The Furtados reside on Appleberry Drive in Lucas Valley.

The baby, born June 7 at Marin General Hospital, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Brock of Strawberry and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ebbesen of Fort Myers, Fla.

Hint Of A Tint

The hint of a tint in hosiery makes for leg flattery. Shy pink tones enhance a pink dress. Golden hues look well with yellow. Blush-tints go well with black. Pale skin tones are evening glamour-makers.

Seafaring Village, West Point Visited By Tour Youngsters

(This is the fourth report of Marin youngsters making the Young Americans Tour to historic sites and cities in the United States and Canada this summer.)

By ANITA MESSIMER

The highlight of our trip from Boston to New York was a stop at Mystic Seaport, Conn. This is a 19th century seafaring village that has been restored. We wandered in small groups around the street, looking at an old counting house, a general store, and seafaring relics.

After purchasing gifts, we ate luncheon in the Galley Cafeteria and continued toward New York City via the beautiful site of the United States Military Academy at West Point.

In New York we went on a nine-hour tour of the city. At the magnificent cathedral of St. John the Divine we found ourselves impressed by the stained glass windows and lovely chapels. Our glimpse of the United Nations building seemed hurried as we had only ten minutes to see the lobby. We spent an hour at National Broadcasting Company learning about the process of producing radio and television programs.

Eager for food, we arrived at Cobbs Corner. In the afternoon we visited a Buddhist shrine in the back of a Chinatown shop.

ABOARD FERRY

The most thrilling part of our tour was the ferry ride to Liberty Island, salt spray flying in our faces, and the exhausting climb up a spiral staircase to the top of the Statue by Jan Ostaggi, Kim Hunter and Toby Leibert.

Our view from the 102nd floor of the Empire State Building was ruined by low visibility, but it excited us anyway. We managed to see all the higher spots.

We ate dinner at the Grill of our hotel, the Taft. Our group was introduced by Vincent Lopez, the orchestra leader and we watched the dancing couples with much amusement.

The next day, after a morning of shopping on Fifth Avenue, we returned to the United Nations for a two hour tour through this area "set aside to maintain world peace."

That evening we attended the Majestic Theater where "Camelot" is playing. Colorful costumes and settings, enchanting songs and the sparkle of the acting delighted us all.

IN FREEDOMLAND

The following day we spent a rainy day of pleasure at Freedomland. Here we rode on little cars into mine caverns, steamed across the Great Lakes, watched a re-creation of the Chicago fire, and had a southern fried chicken luncheon in the Plantation Restaurant. At 4 o'clock when we returned to the bus we were all soaked to the bone and swallowed cold pills doled out by Mrs. Hartman.

In the evening we visited Radio City Music Hall, where we saw the Rockettes dancing with great precision and the sad but comical "Fanny."

In the afternoon we took a cruise around Manhattan island, seeing the docks of large ocean liners, the famous New York skyline, and various buildings of Brooklyn. In the Harlem River we encountered many motor boats making a Sunday outing.

As we chugged down the Hudson once again the rain began to pour. Everyone huddled under the glass roof of the upper deck, singing and chattering about the change in the weather. That night as our farewell party in New York we dined again at the Taft Grill. Again introducing our tour group, Vincent Lopez bid us a happy journey on the rest of the trip.

TUNING UP for an evening of chamber music and a wine-tasting party Thursday are members of the Sausalito Unit of the Family Service League, from left, Barbara Benson and Lou Wolfe of the music committee, and Mrs. George J. Princess Anne Comes By Love For Horses, Polo Naturally

By MARGARET SAVILLE

LONDON (UPI)—"Don't get so worked up, Anne," the Queen of Great Britain says.

The scene: the polo matches.

But Princess Anne, who will be 11 on Aug. 15, doesn't heed the queen's command. She continues to jump and yell excitedly as the match progresses.

Sometimes the princess—third in line of succession to the throne — even bites her nails. Once she was slapped in public for this unroyal conduct.

The princess comes by her love for polo matches and horses naturally. Weekends, the queen and Prince Philip take the princess with them to Windsor Castle. There, mother and daughter ride before breakfast.

When her father plays polo in the afternon, Princess Anne is in the paddock, too, wearing slacks and waterproof jacket. She helps to brush down the ponies and water them.

The princess isn't all rough and tumble. She's appeared most ladylike at various royal weddings.

There's no extravagance at Buckingham Palace when it comes to keeping the queen's daughter in clothes. Some of her cotton frocks were made from clothes the queen wore on overseas tours.

HER OUTFIT

When her second cousin, the Duke of Kent, recently married Kate Worsley, news pictures showed Anne in a white frock. It's to be her party outfit for the rest of the year.

Princess Anne is being brought up more democratically than any other British monarch's daughter ever has been.

Take education. The aim is to teach her to be "just like other girls."

Take her introduction to the world outside the palace.

Visitors to London this summer easily may have rubbed shoulders with her among the crowds at tourist spots. And they sat in seats near her at a news-cinema or ballet performance.

When the princess goes on such excursions she looks like other English schoolgirls. To avoid identification, she doesn't travel in one of the queen's limousines but in a private black car.

Her two best school friends, Caroline Hamilton and Susan Babington-Smith usually accompany Anne.

DISCIPLINED LIFE

In the front seat is the governess, Katherine Peebles. A Scotland Yard detective drives.

Princess Anne has a hard-working, firmly disciplined life. Every morning at nine, she visits with her mother and father for a few minutes. Then she's off to feed ducks and flamingoes in the lake. At 9:30 a.m., she's at her desk in the third-floor schoolroom.

Class commences with a Bible lesson.

Lunch at one is a simple meal—say salad with cheese and biscuits or cake afterwards, hot meat or fish with vegetables, then ice cream and fruit maybe. The menu is in French.

The princess is fluent in the language and often talks French to her footman.

She takes a piano lesson weekly. There's extra French coaching on Mondays and Fridays. Dancing's studied overy Thursday.

Then there are drives to parks where the governess gives informal botany and wild life lessons. School ends for the day at four.

Then the princess spends two hours with her mother. Sometimes the queen reads to her. Sometimes they watch television or listen to radio music or new records.

Prince Philip drops in if he can. At six, the family often visits with Prince Andrew in the nursery.

The little lady, like many others, then is on the verge of being settled down for the night.

League Unit Plans Evening Of Music

What it terms a "typically Sausalito" event will be sponsored by the Sausalito Unit of the Family Service League July 27, taking the form of an evening of chamber music and a wine-tasting party.

The program, which will combine Beethoven and burgundy as the unit's first fund-raising activity, will get underway at 7 p.m. at the Sausalito Woman's Club. The Joshua String Quartet will perform works by Beethoven, Haydn, Milhaud and Prokofieff and guest performers appearing with the quartet will be Larry Posner, clarinetist, and Roberta Rosenthal, pianist.

String quartet members are Dr. George J. Roth, first violin; Frederick M. Hart, second violin; Anne Schmid, viola, and Dr. Asher T. Gordon cello.

Mrs. Leonard Bjorklund is chairman of the recently formed Sausalito Unit of the Family Service League. Mrs. George J. Roth is alternate chairman, and Mrs. Robert Mayer, publicity chairman.

Tickets for "An Evening of Chamber Music" are being handled by Mrs. Roth, 45 Marie Street, Sausalito.

Funds raised by the league support the Family Service Agency of Marin, professional counseling services.

Genessee Council Selects Delegates

Genessee Council 180, Degree of Pocahontas, has chosen its convention delegation.

Representing the council at the Great Council to be held in Long Beach in August will be Mesdames Eldora Clinton, Harold Marple, John Lovati, Horace Phillips and C. L. Winegarden. Alternates Mrs. Joseph Zappella and Mrs. Mary Walls. Julia Tartaul, past great Pocahontas, will also be in attendance.

ROMAN STYLE

Designer Tita Rossi showed sloping shoulders flowing into sleeves. Back fullness wraps around toward a severe but pliant redingote effect at front. Trim is fur, tortoise button, and, as shown, pert bows.

Softening Sugar

To keep brown sugar soft, keep it in a jar with prunes. This makes a cooperative agreement. While the prunes absorb sweetness from the sugar, the sugar takes some of the moisture from the prunes.

Janice Staggs, David Warrington To Wed July 29

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Staggs of Fairfax are anouncing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janice Evonne, to David Howard Warrington.

Parents of the prospective benedict are Mr. and Mrs. William Warrington of San Anselmo.

The bride-elect, who is attending Sir Francis Drake High School, is the sister of Boyd and Denis Staggs and Benny Parker of Fairfax and Mrs. David Trummell of Cleveland.

The future bridegroom is the brother of Gary, Sharon, Johnny and Jury Warrington of San Anselmo. He is a senior at Drake High School.

The wedding will be an event of 11 o'clock on July 29 at the Assembly of God Church

Teaching Children To Type Is A Method To Improve Grades

Want to help your children get good grades in high school? Then have them learn how to use a typewriter. Typing is a useful skill.

Most of our children write quite well while they are in elementary school. They start penmanship when they are five or six. They have regular drill periods. Their teachers encourage them. They make steady progress through the grades.

Then they go to high school. Suddenly they have to write fast. Neat, clear, slow penmanship no longer is rewarded. Drill periods are dropped. Penmanship deteriorates. Critics say handwriting is the worst taught subject in the high school curriculum. Twelfth graders don't write as well as sixth graders. College students are the worst penmen of all. Did you know that?

Many high school teachers give typed papers an edge over handwritten papers. You can't blame them. Typed papers are easy to read. Meanings are clear. Many of the handwritten papers are almost illegible. Teachers try to be fair. They don't intend to play favorites. But frequently reports that would get "C's" if handwritten receive "B's" when typed. Several studies have been made. They agree typing raises grades significantly in high school and college.

It doesn't take long for bright youngsters to learn to type. They pick it up in one year easily. They shouldn't try to become professional typists. They need just enough skill for their school papers.

So get a typewriter. Second-hand ones are not expensive. Have your children enroll in a typing course. Be sure the teacher understands their goal. Good luck!

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, July 21, the 202nd day of the year with 163 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase..

The morning stars are Venus, Saturn and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1831, Leopold I, was proclaimed King of the Belgians following separation of Belgium from Holland.

In 1861, the first major military engagement in the Civil War took place at Bull Run Creek, Virginia.

In 1873, the world's first train robbery took place at Adair, Iowa, Jesse James held up the Rock Island Express and escaped with $3,000.

In 1899, the late American writer Ernest Hemingway was born.

In 1961, Mrs. Siramavo Bandaranake was sworn in as prime minister of Ceylon, the first woman to head the government of a modern state.

A thought for today: Ernest Hemingway said: "The world is a fine place and worth fighting for."

Opening lead — ♡ J

When West led the jack of hearts South put up dummy's king. "My only chance to win a heart trick," South thought to himself as he did so.

East won with the ace of hearts and returned the six of hearts to West's nine. West saw that he had been given the lead for a purpose. Why? Not for a trump or diamond return, surely, since those suits could be led just as comfortably by East.

Having come to the obvious conclusion, West returned a club. South finessed the ten to East's jack. Later, after having drawn trumps, South took another club finesse. This also lost, and South was down one.

"Nice defense," South remarked genially. And then he remarked on his bad luck at finding the ace of hearts and the two club honors all in the East hand.

SHOULD BE REALISTIC: South might have made the contract if he had been realistic at the first trick. He had no chance at all to win a heart trick, for West would not be leading hearts away from the ace.

Of South plays a low heart from dummy and drops the four from his own hand, West is very likely to continue with another heart. Now the contract is home.

East wins the second heart and returns a diamond. South wins, draws trumps, takes the other top diamond and ruffs a diamond in dummy. He returns to his hand with a trump and finesses the ten of clubs to East's jack.

East is hooked. If he returns a club, dummy gets a free finesse. If East returns anything else, dummy ruffs while South discards a club.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. There will be time later for a jump raise in diamonds. Show the major suit first, either to find a fit in the major or to indicate your distribution in support of diamonds.

TEN

Reasons Why

TERRA LINDA OAKS

IS BEST FOR YOU—

AND YOUR FAMILY

1. Climate beyond compare—called one of the six ideal climates of the world, no fog, no smog.
2. Located in marvelous Marin County, the only close-in Bay Area County that still retains the flavor and charm of true country living.
3. In Marin's MOST favorable location—opposite the site of the Frank Lloyd Wright designed Civic Center. An easy commute to San Francisco and the East Bay.
4. A planned community that offers new schools, a beautiful park, churches and a modern shopping center all within walking distance of your home.
5. A young active community of growing families interested in the betterment of their community—professional and business people whose interests are much like yours.
6. An atmosphere that makes the area one big playground for children. Minimum traffic, excellent recreational facilities, plenty of companionship.
7. Homes that avoid "the tract look." Curving streets. All utilities in and paid for.
8. Three different models to choose from (ranch style). 3 and 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, GE electric kitchens. All individually placed on spacious lots.
9. Extensive custom detailing in all models—extras that add so much.
10. In short, Terra Linda Oaks is designed to take every advantage of marvelous Marin's beauty in marvelous Marin's most beautiful and convenient location.

ON TELEVISION—Marian Koehler Rowe, hostess of Channel 5's "Adventure School" series, talks to a group of pre-school children, members of 13-year-old Carolyn Kahn's Larkspur safety school. The children visited the KPIX studios Tuesday to see their young teacher receive a safety award. That's Carolyn holding a little girl on her lap.

Jose Iturbi To Be Concert Hall Guest On Sunday

Jose Iturbi, guesting with Kitty Oppenheimer Sunday night on the KTIM Concert Hall, will become the most illustrious interviewee since the program began two months ago.

Famed pianist Iturbi, who appears as the Marin Music Chest soloist Sunday, will be interviewed backstage at Forest Meadows by Mrs. Oppenheimer, and the tape will be presented at intermission time on the concert, which begins at 6 p.m. on KTIM AM and FM, and continues until 10 p.m. on the FM station.

Featuring the world's finest classical music, the Saturday and Sunday night broadcasts present interviews with people concerned with the arts.

13-Year-Old Larkspur Girl Wins Safety School Award

A 13-year-old Larkspur girl who conducts a safety school for children in the 3 to 6 age bracket has been awarded KPIX-TV's first "Adventure School" safety award.

The award was presented to Carolyn Kahn of 16 Bayview Drive by Louis S. Simon, general manager of the television station, in conjunction with a safety campaign being conducted by Marian Koehler Rowe, hostess of "Adventure School," an early morning program for pre-school children.

Carolyn's entire class, plus her assistant. Debbie Joy, 11, were on hand to receive the award during the telecast Tuesday. Also present were Ivar Larsen, executive vice president of the San Francisco Safety Council, and Stan Osman, director of safety for Western Greyhound Lines which transporter the children and their parents to the studio and home again.

Carolyn's 15-member class, which is called "Carolyn's Safety School for Children," received diplomas last Friday for having "successfully completed a course of instruction." Carolyn is both director and founder of her unique school.

The course is in two sections, safety at home, and safety outdoors. The young teacher uses songs, drawings and numerous National Safety Council pamphlets to emphasize her points.

Strawberry Rec Meeting Held

The Strawberry Recreation District today asked the Strawberry Point Little League to remove its backstop and storage shed from land used as a playground to make way for grading.

Mrs. James W. Gowan, district secretary, said that at its meeting last night Clarence Bush, president, asked the district's counsel to explore legalities involved in leasing land to a private group for a swimming pool.

A group headed by James Allroggan and Drs. N. L. Petrakis and Ed Smith of the Strawberry Point Area requested the lease to build a pool, arranging their own financing and permitting use on a membership basis.

Woodacre Fair Will Feature A Pet Parade

A pet parade featuring horses to guinea pigs will be a prime new attraction of the annual Woodacre Fair to be held July 30.

The San Geronimo Valley Horsemen's Assn. will lead the parade from the Woodacre Post Office at 11 a.m. and will follow a route up Central Avenue to Woodacre Improvement Club grounds where the fair will be held.

Children and their pets will meet at the Woodacre post office where they can register for the parade. Prizes will be awarded various categories for the children and their pets.

Mr. and Mrs. Wray Simmons, fair chairmen, said complete information about booths, games, program and special events will soon be announced.

Tiburon Demo Club Se Fair Housing Meeting

The Tiburon Peninsula Democratic Club will discuss fair housing at a meeting scheduled for 8:15 p.m. July 27 in Tiburoners Hall, it was announced today.

The Sausalito Democratic Club also announced that a pro and con discussion on Cuba will be held Aug. 29, time and place to be announced later.

Plant life in the waters ringing the continent of Antarctica is so thick that visibility is only one third what it is in warm, central Pacific waters.

A WEEK OF GOOD READING

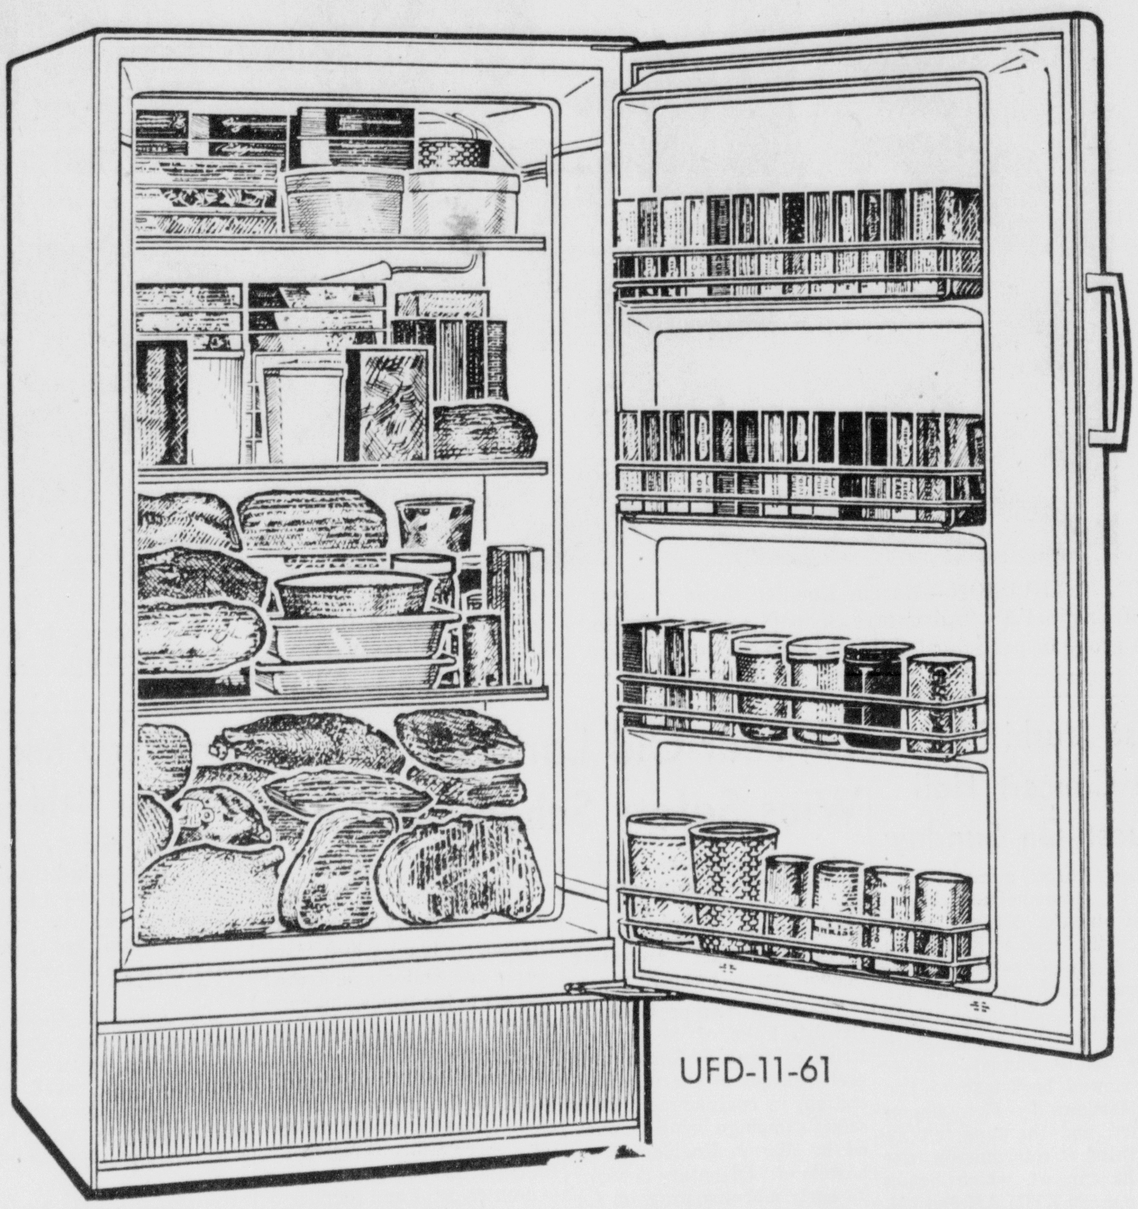

PROFILE OF THE WEEK — "The pancake king of Marin." That's the title diners of Marin have bestowed upon restaurateur Eugene Lackenbach. But his knowledge of foods goes far beyond the scores of different varieties of pancakes featured at his popular San Rafael eating place. And his interests are not confined to things culinary. He is something of a dilettante, interested in fine music, art, good books, etc. You can learn more about this interesting Marinite in tomorrow's issue of your Independent-Journal Marin Magazine from an article written by Harry Craft of the I-J staff.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

Retail Selling Will Take On Festive Air

Old-fashioned American style of retail selling—with a festive air—will take place tomorrow on the mall of the Corte Madera Shopping Center during the annual 34-store Sidewalk Bazaar.

Long tables loaded with merchandise at special prices will be placed in front of each store, attended by sales persons, some in special costumes. Decorations will include flying pennants, balloons and colorful posters.

Just like the retailing methods of many years ago, the sidewalk will be filled with merchandise from garden chairs, electric broilers, bright summer wear, and wheelbarrows to children's swings or boats.

Every participating store has promised very special prices for either clearance items or season goods and services. Some stores have been able to make some excellent purchases especially for this Sidewalk Bazaar event.

According to Robert Batty, president of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council, the selling spree will begin at 9:30 a.m. an close at 5:30 p.m.

Free, no time-limit parking is available in the 2,100-car capacity parking area, the largest single retail parking area in Marin County.

Your Charity Dollar Going Where Intended?

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Is your charity dollar going where it's intended to go? Or is up to 75 per cent of it going for plush salaries, offices and other administrative expenses?

The office of Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk thinks there's a problem. And part of this belief is based on the number of letters coming in from the public, asking for investigations of various charitable organizations which are soliciting money.

The legislature and Gov. Edmund G. Brown must have thought there was a problem too as a $35,000 item was tacked onto the 1961-62 budget for expansion of the staff which monitors charitable organizations.

This work has been done largely, in the past, by Frederic C. Auforth, a field representative of the attorney general. The new appropriation will provide him with two more clerks and three auditors, designed to clear up the two-year backlog in audit reports which now exists.

"The public wants to know what happens to its charity dollar," Auforth said. "With the charitable organizations we've investigated we've found that administrative costs run from 12 to 75 per cent of the income. The average is about 13 per cent for a good organization."

Since approval of a law in 1959, all such organizations which claim tax exemptions have been required to register with the attorney general's office and file reports. Failure to do this could result in a revocation of the tax exemption.

"But we have found some that neglected arbitrarily to comply," Auforth said. "We found 40 odd organizations during one study in southern California. How many more there are, we don't know—1,000, 2,000, 3,000 — who knows?"

Mistaken Identity

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A man walked into a department store, obviously waiting for someone. As he stood motionless next to a mannequin, a customer walked up to the man and felt the material of his coat sleeve. When he started to touch the other sleeve, the first man said: "That sleeve is just like the other one."

NO MONEY DOWN

SHOP WARDS WHERE YOU PAY NOTHING DOWN

HERE'S A GOOD BUY—First customer Inez Buechler, 9 Buena Vista, San Anselmo, helps demonstrate the idea of the Sidewalk Bazaar to be held all day tomorrow at the Corte Madera Shopping Center. Sales ladies Jean Dorigo, 230 W. Baltimore, Larkspur, and Magda Potter, 31 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera, eagerly assist in a buying decision. The open-air selling spree begins at 9:30 a.m. and closes at 5:30 p.m.

Appliance Hunting? Here's Your Chance

During the Sidewalk Bazaar about five or six persons will be able to make a very excellent purchase of an electric appliance in front of the Thrifty Drug Store.

Said K. R. Landage, store manager, "I may offer these portable rotisserie broilers at something less than cost," when asked what specials he had in mind. "They're pretty good, too, but they are discontinued items. Think anyone will buy them?"

Corte Madera Mall Due Shoping Spree

Festive, old-fashioned American retail selling will take place tomorrow on the mall of the Corte Madera Shopping Center as more than 30 merchants participate in the annual one-day Sidewalk Baazar.

Merchandise will be displayed on tables and on the walk while sales persons—some in costume—hawk their wares amid sounds of bargain hunters and folk music. Larger wares will be displayed on the sidewalk, too.

There will be garden furniture, plants, children's playing equipment, some appliances, sporting goods, vacation items, things for the home, special foods and many other items, many being offered at bargain prices.

Colorful balloons will wave in the breeze atop the many display tables. Pennants will flutter overhead as the crowd looks for the real money-saving items.

The big event will start at 9:30 a.m. and end at 5:30 p.m., according to Robert Batty, president of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council. He also reminds customers that there is no time-limit in the 2,100-car parking area.

Members of the Council or participating merchants include Littleman's, Zim's Grant's, Woolworth's, Kirby Shoes, Lady Baltimore Bakery, Peerless Cleaners, Union Service Station, Kern & Walker Cleaners, Louis George Men's Store, Harmony Music Center, Bob's of Marin restaurant, Shoe Repair Center, Montgomery Ward & Co., Thrifty Drug Store, Kramar's Shoes, The Swiss Watchmaker, JayVee, Dr. S. Kumata, optometrist; Junior Junction, Crocker-Anglo National Bank, Chevron Service Station, Marina Barber Shop, Luana's, Gallenkamp's, Edgewater Inn, Mam'selle Beauty Salon, Herbert's Sherbet Shop, The Toy World, J. C. Penney Co.

RIGHT PENNY WILL GET YOU FREE TREAT

Got an Indian-head penny, kid?

If you have, it will be worth a free, single-scoop ice cream cone at Herbert's Sherbet Shoppe during the Saturday Sidewalk Bazaar at the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

Proprietor Albert "Bud" Fitzgerald, an avid numismatist, said that the United States once minted 2c and 3c pieces. If any of these are brought in, Bud will exchange them for free double-decker cones.

Fifteen one-half gallon cartons of free ice cream will be given away to any person willing to exchange the cartons for a $1 gold piece.

Herbert's Sherbet Shoppe is located under the same roof as the Crocker-Anglo National Bank, Mam'selle Beauty Salon and the Shoe Repair Center.

MODERN WAY TO LIVE DOG'S LIFE

Jet, a 12-year-old Cocker Spaniel, is sole occupant of this fancy dog-house. He hasn't complained to owner C. L. Askew of Birmingham, Ala., about the lack of running water or carpeting. After all, who else in his canine set has electric lights and a picture window? (AP Wirephoto)

Civil Servants Get Rome's Olympic Village

ROME (UPI)—The glory of Rome's Olympic Village has faded into acres of middle-class homes.

The Village, home for more than 7,000 athletes from around the world during last year's summer Olympiad, has become a housing area for Italian civil servants. It is quite a change.

During the Olympics, there were athletes of every race, religion and size. The village, surrounded by a high wire fence, became one of the tourist attractions of Rome.

Daily, thousands gathered outside the gates to watch the athletes.

Now, the occasional tourist who visits the former Village, located in the Parioli district of Rome, sees only a few remnants of its former glory. The houses on stilts still are there and the highway still runs overhead. But the fence surrounding it is gone—as are the athletes.

There are a few children playing in the sun and a few women chatting, but little else.

The government's plan to make the Village a housing area for civil servants has not been a success.

So far, 1,348 families have moved in, almost filling the buildings. But they are not happy. They complain that prices for the apartments are about the same as they would pay for a similar apartment anywhere in Rome—and certainly not cheaper.

And housewives complain about the shopping facilities. During the Olympics there was a shopping area in the center of the Village.

Now the stores have been replaced by a supermarket. And in Italy, supermarket goods always seem to cost a few lire more than goods from regular shops.

Aspen trees with trunks measuring two feet in diameter have been recorded in the Santa Fe National Forest.

Collegians Form Peace Corp For Park Lodge In Colorado

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo. (UPI)—Some 350 collegians from all over the United States and the free world have gathered here to form what Raymond C. Lillie calls his own "Peace Corps."

They arrived with bag and books at Grand Teton National Park to staff Grand Teton Lodge, a non-profit Rockefeller-financed enterprise.

The selected young men and women are filling such jobs as guides, wranglers, boatmen, maids, waitresses and bellboys.

Lillie, who is general manager of the lodge, said he couldn't operate without his own "Peace Corps." He said he has been impressed by the way in which his young employees can work and play together.

"The foreign student quite often turns out to be our best employee," he said.

In exchange for their work, the youngsters get a summer vacation along with lazy evenings, movies, dancing, riding and swimming. Or they can study. Lillie has arranged a lounge for those who prefer studying to dancing.

Lillie said he received 8,000 applications this year for the 350 available jobs.

Special Sales Offered At Littleman Market

It's a surprise this year at the gala Sidewalk Days as to what the Littleman supermarket will offer for its special sales.

Last year, according to store president Ray Ziroff, a special refrigerated truck backed up to the shopping center's mall and frozen foods and fruit juices were sold at bargain prices.

California's General Fund Winds Up Year With Surplus

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—State Controller Alan Cranston has reported the state's general fund wound up the 1960-61 fiscal year with a cash balance of $114,573,406.

Like most figures, Cranston noted they did not mean exactly what they might seem to mean. He said the figure represented merely the cash position of the general fund on June 30 and should not be interpreted as unappropriated surplus.

The balance was about 16.7 million dollars less than a balance a year ago.

General fund revenues for the fiscal year totaled $1,591,514,817, with expenditures out of the fund $1,619,123,603. Revenues were up 7.02 per cent, while expenditures were up 12.41 from the previous fiscal year.

Major sources of income during 1960-61 included: Sales and use taxes, $711,248,785, up .02 per cent; bank and corporation franchise and income taxes, $273,361,859, up 13.9 per cent; personal income taxes, $269,659,574, up 9.7 per cent; inheritance tax, $73,119,160, up 67.2 per cent; insurance companie s tax $66,417,983, up 7.9 per cent.

Community Has FDR Memorial

ROOSEVELT, N.J. (AP)—Twenty-five years ago, this community of 200 families was established as a rural haven for garment workers.

This year, this same community has taken steps to honor the New Deal's founder, Franklin D. Roosevelt, by starting work on a memorial aphitheater.

Artist Ben Shahn, president of the local Roosevelt Memorial Association, believes the structure and a five-foot statue of the late president will be the first monument of its kind in this country.

ED BREAULT
New work savers

Tremendous New Items For Ward Store

Ed Breault, manager of the appliance department of the Montgomery Ward department store in Corte Madera, recently attended a preview in San Francisco of the company's new line of appliances.

Breault described the items —soon to be introduced into the Ward stores—as "tremendous work savers . . . which can perform even more complicated functions than before."

The meeting was one of a series, nationwide, for Ward appliance managers. Appliance and electronic experts from Ward's home offices and regional headquarters attended the meeting, Breault said.

"Today's housewife simply sets the washer controls for temperature, water, type of fabric, cycles, degree of agitation, measure of bleach and soap," and it follows her instructions, explained Breault.

He said he was also shown a new sterio hi fidelity set that allows a person to "hear full stero" anywhere in a room. Previously a listener had to sit in a particular place in the room.

Eskimo Has Hot Time In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — An Alaskan Eskimo miss who has lived eight months in the sunny 50th state is returning to the snows of the 49th.

"I want to go back to my people," says Eloise Ashby, who has been working in a restaurant and a cannery in Hawaii.

Miss Ashby hails from Kotzebue on Alaska's Arctic coast —but she's not going back there.

"It's too cold," she says. "I'm going to Fairbanks.

U.S. Male Fashions Popular In Australia

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Men's fashions from America are becoming very popular in Australia, says Harold Sackville, a Melbourne clothing manufacturer.

"The ties of tradition with Birtain are still strong" he says, "but American-style suits are popular for their comfort, better appearance and fit, and lighter weight construction suited to the Australian climate."
